NOTIFICATIONS.

[Fourth publication.]

No. 41-I.—3rd October 1929.—The following draft of rules and schedule of rates of tolls, which, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor in Council intends to make and fix for the khal known as the first side-cut along the Schillarganj Char Duani Road, joining Nali Done in the south and Shapleza khal in the north, in the Perojpur subdivision of the Bakarganj district, is hereby published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

II. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 28th November 1929, and any objections or suggestions received before that date will be considered.

Draft Rules and Schedule of Rates of Tolls.

1. Every vessel on entering the channel and before passing the gate at either end or even when entering the channel from a side khal between the gates shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable; in case of any reasonable doubt arising, a vessel may be measured again by any person appointed by the District Board of Bakarganj on this behalf.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into two classes as below:—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the types of country boats, including saltees and hapors (fish cages), house boats, kosh boats, green boats, etc.

Class II.—To include steam boats, motor boats, flats and barges and other square built vessels.

3. The maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purpose of Act V (B. C.) of 1864 and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

CLASS I.

A. The product of one quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches; the measurement of breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C. The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of $12\frac{1}{2}$ maunds, any remainder of less than $12\frac{1}{2}$ maunds being rejected. In the case of vessels exceeding 500 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D. Saltees.—The product of one quarter of the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the greatest depth measured from the top to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

CLASS II.

For vessel of class II the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class I shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class above 5,000 maunds measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 500 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 500 maunds. In the case of steamers and motor boats the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance for engine space.

For vessels of class II which are furnished with reliable way bills, the gross maundage of cargo shown by the way bills or in the case of steamers, the maundage obtained from multiplying the registered tonnage of the steamer by 27, may, at the option of the employer of the vessel or the steamer (as the case may be), be taken as the maundage on which tolls will be charged.

4. After the measurement the person in charge of the vessel shall be provided with a slip showing the maundage to be charged, which must be presented at the toll office where he will be provided with a ticket, after payment of toll, which will permit the vessel to pass the gate or proceed through the channel.

5. Every ticket shall have entered on it the name of the sarang, manjee or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage, the cargo, the amount of toll charged and the number of days for which the ticket remains current.

6. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll office before a vessel is permitted to proceed.

7. The ticket must be kept on board the vessel and in possession of the person in charge of the vessel and must be produced for inspection when demanded by the person authorised to collect tolls, or by any officer to whom such person is subordinate. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage as provided in rules 3 and 12 and shall require payment of toll, and unless and until the toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel shall be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act.

8. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the collector of tolls on payment of a fee equal to one quarter of the total tollage, subject to a minimum fee of one anna per ticket.

9. All vessels, whether the property of Government, District Board, other local bodies or of private persons, are liable for toll except those specially exempted under these rules or by a resolution passed by the District Board of Bakarganj from time to time.

10. The canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on seven days' notice of the intention so to close it being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency the canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

11. No rafts exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth shall be permitted to enter the canals.

12. The rates of toll shall be as follows:—

- (1) On all vessels empty or laden, per hundred maunds ... Four annas.
- (2) On all vessels empty or laden, for 12½ maunds or less ... One-half anna.
- (3) On rafts of bamboos, grass, timber, etc., not exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth ... Two annas each raft.

Tolls will be levied at Nali and Shopleza.

13. For boats frequently using the canal such as boats carrying passengers, grass or perishable articles monthly tickets will be issued at 10 times the ordinary toll.

14. Every vessel which has paid toll shall be allowed to remain in the canal for three days inclusive of the days of entry into and leaving the canal. A vessel remaining in any part of the canal longer than three days shall be charged demurrage equal to one-half of the toll for each day in excess of three days. No vessel shall be permitted to remain in the canal for more than one month. Provided that this rule shall not apply to vessels holding monthly tickets under rule 13 above, which may remain in the canal for more than three days without payment of demurrage but not for more than one month at a time.

15. No vessel carrying exclusively police officers or servants, soldiers and officers of the British Army, post mail runners, officers of the Irrigation Department on duty, officers and servants of the toll office for the canal referred to in these rules while on duty, or the vessels of such other persons as may be exempted by a resolution of the District Board of Bakarganj, shall be liable for toll in the canal.

16. Any matter relating to the mode of collection of tolls and other relevant points, not provided for in these rules, shall be decided by the District Board of Bakarganj at a meeting, and shall be subject to the approval of the local Government.

New Delhi, the 31st October 1929.

No. 4485.—The following statement by His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General is published for general information.

H. G. HAIG,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

STATEMENT.

I have just returned from England where I have had the opportunity of prolonged consultation with His Majesty's Government. Before I left this country I said publicly that as the King-Emperor's representative in India I should hold myself bound to tell my fellow-countrymen, as faithfully as I might, of India's feelings, anxieties and aspirations. In my endeavours to discharge that undertaking I was assisted by finding, as I had expected, a generous and sincere desire, not only on the part of His Majesty's Government but on that of all persons and parties in Great Britain, to hear and to appreciate everything that it was my duty to represent.

These are critical days, when matters by which men are deeply touched are in issue and when, therefore, it is inevitable that political feeling should run high, and that misunderstandings, which would scarcely arise in conditions of political tranquillity, should obtain firm foothold in men's minds. I have, nevertheless, not faltered in my belief that behind all the disquieting tendencies of the time, there lay the great mass of Indian opinion, overflowing all divisions of race, religion, or political thought, fundamentally loyal to the King-Emperor, and, whether consciously or not, only wanting to understand and to be understood. On the other side I have never felt any doubt that opinion in Great Britain, puzzled as it might be by events in India, or only perhaps partially informed as to their true significance, was unshaken in its determination that Great Britain should redeem to the full the pledges she has given for India's future. On both countries the times have laid a heavy and in some ways a unique responsibility, for the influence on the world of a perfect understanding between Great Britain and India might surely be so great that no scales can give us the measure either of the price of success or the price of failure in our attempts to reach it.

In my discussions with the Prime Minister and the Secretary of State, it was inevitable that the principal topic should have been the course of events in India. It is not profitable on either side to discuss to what extent, or with what justification, the appointment of a Parliamentary Commission two years ago has affected the general trend of Indian thought and action. Practical men must take facts and situations as they are, and not as they would have them be.

Sir John Simon's Commission, assisted as it has been by the Indian Central Committee, is now at work on its Report, and until that Report is laid before Parliament it is impossible, and even if it were possible, it would in the view of His Majesty's Government clearly be improper, to forecast the nature of any constitutional changes that may subsequently be proposed. In this respect every British party is bound to preserve to itself complete freedom of action. But what must constantly engage our attention, and is a matter of deep concern to His Majesty's Government, is the discovery of means by which, when the Commission has reported, the broad question of British Indian constitutional advance may be approached in co-operation with all those who can speak authoritatively for opinion in British India. I would venture to recall some words which I used in addressing the Assembly eight months ago in a reference to the then existing political situation. "On the one side" I said, "it is as unprofitable to deny the right of Parliament to form its free and deliberate judgment on the problem as it would be short-sighted of Parliament to underrate the importance of trying to reach a solution which might carry the willing assent of political India." We shall surely stray from the path, at the end of which lies achievement, if we let go either one or other of these two main guiding principles of political action.

But there has lately emerged, from a totally different angle, another set of considerations which is very relevant to what I have just stated on this matter to be the desire of His Majesty's Government.

The Chairman of the Commission has pointed out in correspondence with the Prime Minister, which, I understand, is being published in England, that as their investigation has proceeded, he and his colleagues have been greatly impressed, in considering the direction which the future constitutional development of India is likely to take, with the importance of bearing in mind the relations which may, at some future time, develop between British India and the Indian States. In his judgment it is essential that the methods, by which this future relationship between these two constituent parts of Greater India may be adjusted, should be fully examined. He has further expressed the opinion that if the Commission's Report and the proposals subsequently to be framed by the Government take this wider range, it would appear necessary for the Government to revise the scheme of procedure as at present proposed. He suggests that what might be required, after the Reports of the Statutory Commission and the Indian Central Committee have been made, considered and published, but before the stage is reached of the Joint Parliamentary Committee, would be the setting up of a Conference in which His Majesty's Government should meet representatives both of British India and of the States, for the purpose of seeking the greatest possible measure of agreement for the final proposals which it would later be the duty of His Majesty's Government to submit to Parliament. The procedure by Joint Parliamentary Committee conferring with delegations from the Indian Legislature and other bodies, which was previously contemplated and is referred to in Sir John Simon's letter to myself of 6th February 1928, would still be appropriate for the examination of the Bill when it is subsequently placed before Parliament, but would, in the opinion of the Commission, obviously have to be preceded by some such Conference as they have suggested.

With these views I understand that His Majesty's Government are in complete accord. For, while they will greatly desire, when the time comes, to be able to deal with the question of British Indian political development under conditions the most favourable to its successful treatment, they are, with the Commission, deeply sensible of the importance of bringing under comprehensive review the whole problem of the relations of British India and the Indian States. Indeed, an adjustment of these interests in their view is essential for the complete fulfilment of what they consider to be the underlying purpose of British policy, whatever may be the method for its furtherance which Parliament may decide to adopt.

The goal of British policy was stated in the declaration of August 1917 to be that of providing for "the gradual development of self-governing institutions, with a view to the progressive realisation of responsible government in India as an integral part of the British Empire." As I recently pointed out, my own Instrument of Instructions from the King-Emperor expressly states that it is His Majesty's will and pleasure that the plans laid by Parliament in 1919 should be the means by which British India may attain its due place among His Dominions. Ministers of the Crown, moreover, have more than once publicly declared that it is the desire of the British Government that India should, in the fullness of time, take her place in the Empire in equal partnership with the Dominions. But in view of the doubts which have been expressed both in Great Britain and India regarding the interpretation to be placed on the intentions of the British Government in enacting the Statute of 1919, I am authorised on behalf of His Majesty's Government to state clearly that in their judgment it is implicit in the declaration of 1917 that the natural issue of India's constitutional progress, as there contemplated, is the attainment of Dominion status.

In the full realisation of this policy, it is evidently important that the Indian States should be afforded an opportunity of finding their place, and even if we cannot at present exactly foresee on what lines this development may be shaped, it is from every point of view desirable that whatever can be done should be done to ensure that action taken now is not inconsistent with the attainment of the ultimate purpose which those, whether in British India or the States, who look forward to some unity of All India, have in view.

His Majesty's Government consider that both these objects, namely, that of finding the best approach to the British Indian side of the problem, and secondly, of ensuring that in this process the wider question of closer relations in the future between the two parts of Greater India is not overlooked, can best be achieved by the adoption of procedure such as the Commission has outlined. When, therefore, the Commission, and the Indian Central Committee have submitted their Reports and these have been published, and when His Majesty's Government have been able, in consultation with the Government of India, to consider these matters in the light of all the material then available, they will propose to invite representatives of different parties and interests in British India and representatives of the Indian States to meet them, separately or together as circumstances may demand, for the purpose of conference and discussion in regard both to the British-Indian and the All-Indian problems. It will be their earnest hope that by this means it may subsequently prove possible on these grave issues to submit proposals to Parliament which may command a wide measure of general assent.

It is not necessary for me to say how greatly I trust that the action of His Majesty's Government may evoke response from and enlist the concurrence of all sections of opinion in India, and I believe that all who wish India well, wherever and whoever they are, desire to break through the webs of mistrust that have lately clogged the relations between India and Great Britain. I am firmly assured that the course of action now proposed is at once the outcome of a real desire to bring to the body politic of India the touch that carries with it healing and health, and is the method by which we may best hope to handle these high matters in the way of constructive statesmanship.

IRWIN,

J. M. MITRA,

Registrar of Co-operative Societies, Bengal.

Orders by the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal.

The following rules issued by the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal, in exercise of the powers of the Chief Customs Authority conferred on him under sections 144, 147, 148 and 151 of the Sea Customs Act, VIII of 1878, are published for general information as required by section 204 of the said Act:—

Rule 1.—Spirit intended for exportation by sea may be removed without previous payment of duty from a licensed distillery in Bengal to the Custom House, and from the Custom House on the execution by the licensee of the distillery of a general or special bond with one or more sureties before the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, who has been appointed by the Government of Bengal notification No. 1029 S. R., dated the 28th May 1924, to exercise the powers conferred on the Chief Customs Authority by sections 144, 147, 148 and 151 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act). The bond shall be in such form as the said authority may from time to time prescribe, and will be conditioned that full duty shall be paid on all such spirit as is—

- (a) not exported within four months from the date of the excise pass authorising the removal of the spirit (in the case of a general bond), and within four months from the date of bond (where a special bond has been executed) or
- (b) exported to a customs port in India as defined in the said Act or declared as such by any rules made thereunder, unless satisfactory proof is furnished to the said authority within six months from the date of the excise pass or the date of the bond (according as the bond is a general or special one), that the full amount of excise duty has been paid at destination on the specified quantity at the rate to which spirit of the like kind and strength is liable at the port of importation or that the specified quantity of spirit has been delivered into a warehouse appointed in this behalf by the Local Government of the province of import.

After execution, a copy of the bond shall be forwarded to the Collector of Customs of the port of exportation for necessary action under rule 4, another copy being sent at the same time to the Collector of the district in which the distillery is situated.

Rule 2.—The spirits to be exported shall not be removed from the licensed distillery unless the serial number of the container and its capacity (if it is a cask or drum), the names of the proprietors, the locality of the distillery, the kind and quantity (both in bulk and London proof gallons), of the spirits and the real strength thereof (in the case of potable liquor only), are distinctly and prominently painted or engraved on one end of each container, as shown below by way of example—

Drum	Wooden Case
No. 212	No. 250
Cap. 50 gallons	S. S. & Co., Ltd.,
	Calcutta.
Carew & Co.,	Med. PRE NS
Asansol.
Rum 40 gallons	Bulk 40 × 1 lb.

Rule 3.—On a bond being duly executed and its execution duly certified by the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal, the Collector of the district in which the distillery is situated will grant a pass for the removal of the spirit bonded without payment of duty.

Rule 4.—On the spirits being brought to the Custom House for exportation, the exporter shall declare in writing by what bond it is protected, and produce the pass of the Collector of the district and the distillery invoice duly endorsed by the Excise Officer in charge. If necessary, the contents of each cask, drum or wooden case may be checked by a Custom House Officer by the usual prescribed methods obtaining in the Custom House as regards quantity and strength in presence of the exporter or his agent, and the result noted in the pass and invoice produced by the exporter and also on the copies received by the customs authorities from the Excise Officer in charge of the distillery. The original pass and invoice shall be returned to the exporter who will forward the same to his agent at the port of destination. The copies of the pass and invoice received direct from the Officer in charge of the distillery shall be forwarded without delay by the Customs Department to the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal. Duty on the difference between the quantity despatched from the distillery and that found on checking at the Custom House less an allowance for ullage and wastage prescribed in rule 10, shall be realised by the said excise authority previous to shipment. If no chargeable deficiency is observed on checking, the consignment shall at once be passed for export by the customs authorities.

Rule 5.—The contents of casks or drums shall be checked in accordance with the methods obtaining in the Custom House and the contents of bottles, jars, etc., enclosed in wooden cases by counting the numbers of the containers or in such ways as are deemed proper by the Custom Officer.

Rule 6.—The entries made on the passes and invoices as laid down in rule 4 shall also be attested by the exporter or his agent who may be present at the time of checking.

Rule 7.—The bond executed (whether general or special) shall become void so far as the particular consignment is concerned—

- (a) when the spirit has been duly shipped for export to a foreign port or
- (b) when satisfactory evidence regarding payment of duty or delivery of the spirit into a licensed warehouse in the province of import as laid down in Rule 1 has been produced before the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal. Where a special bond has been executed, it shall be cancelled by the aforesaid authority.

Rule 8.—If at the expiration of the periods referred to in Rule 1, the entire quantity of spirit covered by the bond (general or special) has not been accounted for as required by the said Act, the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal, will proceed to recover the duty upon the quantity of spirit which may not have been so accounted for unless an extension of the period shall have been granted by him on sufficient cause being shown. Such extension may be granted for a further period not exceeding four months. On the expiry of the extended period, the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal, will proceed to realise the duty on the quantity of spirit unaccounted for.

Rule 9.—If it appears at the time of clearing such spirit from the Custom House warehouse that a deficiency has taken place in the quantity or quality during storage the spirit shall on application of the importers be again checked as regards quantity and strength and the following allowances shall be made (calculated at proof strengths), in the case when the spirit has been conveyed in casks or drums:—

On spirit stored in any wooden vessel—

For any period not exceeding one month—1 per cent.

For any period exceeding one month—1½ per cent.

On spirit stored in any metal vessel—

For any period—½ per cent.

No storage wastage shall be allowed when the spirit is contained in bottles and jars.

Rule 10.—An allowance is made on account of ullage and leakage in transit by land of the spirit from the distillery to the Custom House at rates not exceeding the maximum quantities, calculated in terms of London proof gallons, specified in the following scale for wooden or metal vessels, as the case may be, namely—

	Maximum quantities of allowance.
	Wooden vessels. Per cent.	Metal vessels. Per cent.
(a) For a journey of not greater duration than two days	2	½
(b) For a journey of duration exceeding two but not exceeding nine days ..	3	1
(c) For a journey of duration exceeding nine but not exceeding eighteen days ..	4	1½
(d) For a journey of duration exceeding eighteen days	5	2

No allowance shall be made when the spirit is transported in bottles or earthenware jars.

Rule 11.—In the case of spirit exported under bond to another port within British India (not being a free port), in adjusting the bond an allowance for wastage and leakage during the sea voyage is made— for a voyage of one month at the rate of 2 per cent., and for any longer voyage, at 3½ per cent.

Rule 12.—Spirit for use as ship's stores during the voyage may be shipped free of duty on vessels clearing to a foreign port. Passes for such spirit are, however, detained at the Custom House until the vessel for the use of which it is intended is actually under clearance, when they are made over to the shipper's servants. Such shipments must be made under special bonds and will be cancelled by the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Bengal, on production of a certificate from the Preventive Officer on the ship that no portion of the spirits covered by the bond has been consumed in port.

IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.NOTIFICATIONS.*[Fifth publication.]

No. 41-L.—3rd October 1929.—The following draft of rules and schedule of rates of tolls, which, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor in Council intends to make and fix for the khal known as the first side-cut along the Schillarganj Char Duani Road, joining Nali Done in the south and Shapleza khal in the north, in the Perojpur subdivision of the Bakarganj district, is hereby published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

II. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 28th November 1929, and any objections or suggestions received before that date will be considered.

Draft Rules and Schedule of Rates of Tolls.

1. Every vessel on entering the channel and before passing the gate at either end or even when entering the channel from a side khal between the gates shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable; in case of any reasonable doubt arising, a vessel may be measured again by any person appointed by the District Board of Bakarganj on this behalf.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into two classes as below:—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the types of country boats, including saltees and hapors (fish cages), house boats, kosh boats, green boats, etc.

Class II.—To include steam boats, motor boats, flats and barges and other square built vessels.

3. The maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purpose of Act V (B. C.) of 1864 and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

CLASS I.

A. The product of one quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches; the measurement of breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C. The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of $12\frac{1}{2}$ maunds, any remainder of less than $12\frac{1}{2}$ maunds being rejected. In the case of vessels exceeding 500 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D. Saltees.—The product of one quarter of the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the greatest depth measured from the top to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

CLASS II.

For vessel of class II the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class I shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class above 5,000 maunds measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 500 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 500 maunds. In the case of steamers and motor boats the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance for engine space.

For vessels of class II which are furnished with reliable way bills, the gross maundage of cargo shown by the way bills or in the case of steamers, the maundage obtained from multiplying the registered tonnage of the steamer by 27, may, at the option of the employer of the vessel or the steamer (as the case may be), be taken as the maundage on which tolls will be charged.

4. After the measurement the person in charge of the vessel shall be provided with a slip showing the maundage to be charged, which must be presented at the toll office where he will be provided with a ticket, after payment of toll, which will permit the vessel to pass the gate or proceed through the channel.

5. Every ticket shall have entered on it the name of the sarang, manjee or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage, the cargo, the amount of toll charged and the number of days for which the ticket remains current.

6. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll office before a vessel is permitted to proceed.

7. The ticket must be kept on board the vessel and in possession of the person in charge of the vessel and must be produced for inspection when demanded by the person authorised to collect tolls, or by any officer to whom such person is subordinate. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage as provided in rules 3 and 12 and shall require payment of toll, and unless and until the toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel shall be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act.

8. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the collector of tolls on payment of a fee equal to one quarter of the total tollage, subject to a minimum fee of one anna per ticket.

9. All vessels, whether the property of Government, District Board, other local bodies or of private persons, are liable for toll except those specially exempted under these rules or by a resolution passed by the District Board of Bakarganj from time to time.

10. The canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on seven days' notice of the intention so to close it being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency the canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

11. No rafts exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth shall be permitted to enter the canals.

12. The rates of toll shall be as follows:—

- | | |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|
| (1) On all vessels empty or laden, per hundred maunds | Four annas. |
| (2) On all vessels empty or laden, for 12½ maunds or less | One-half anna. |
| (3) On rafts of bamboos, grass, timber, etc., not exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth | Two annas each raft. |

Tolls will be levied at Nuli and Shapleza.

13. For boats frequently using the canal such as boats carrying passengers, grass or perishable articles monthly tickets will be issued at 10 times the ordinary toll.

14. Every vessel which has paid toll shall be allowed to remain in the canal for three days inclusive of the days of entry into and leaving the canal. A vessel remaining in any part of the canal longer than three days shall be charged demurrage equal to one-half of the toll for each day in excess of three days. No vessel shall be permitted to remain in the canal for more than one month. Provided that this rule shall not apply to vessels holding monthly tickets under rule 13 above, which may remain in the canal for more than three days without payment of demurrage but not for more than one month at a time.

15. No vessel carrying exclusively police officers or servants, soldiers and officers of the British Army, post mail runners, officers of the Irrigation Department on duty, officers and servants of the toll office for the canal referred to in these rules while on duty, or the vessels of such other persons as may be exempted by a resolution of the District Board of Bakarganj, shall be liable for toll in the canal.

16. Any matter relating to the mode of collection of tolls and other relevant points, not provided for in these rules, shall be decided by the District Board of Bakarganj at a meeting, and shall be subject to the approval of the local Government.

Geography.

Books recommended to be used by students in studying the subject in accordance with the syllabus:—

C. Morrison. Our World of Human Geography.

The world with fuller treatment of India (Longman's Geographical Series for India, Book II).

F. D. Unstead. The Practical Geography, Parts I and II.

B. C. Wallis. Macmillan's Geography Exercise Book (India).

A. Bose. Outlines of Geography.

Ideal Advanced Regional Geography published by the Grant Educational Company, Limited.

The following books are recommended for the use of teachers:—

Blandford. The Rudiments of Physical Geography for the use of Indian Schools.

Frew. A Regional Geography of the Indian Empire (Blackie & Son).

Wallis. The Teaching of Geography (Cambridge University Press).

O'Malley. Bengal, Behar and Orissa, Sikkim (Macmillan & Co.).

L. Dudley Stamp. The World. A General Geography for Indian Schools (Longmans, Green & Co.).

The following book is recommended for the use of teachers in connection with the teaching of 'Sand Modelling' in the lower classes of schools:—

A. F. Frye. The Child and Nature.

[N.B.—Every school that intends to undertake instruction in Geography for the Matriculation Examination is required to possess the apparatus mentioned in the following list:—

1. (The total cost need not exceed Rs. 65.)

(1) A measuring tape and metre scale and foot-rule.

(2) A magnetic compass.

(3) Squared paper and tracing paper.

(4) Clay, dry sand, paper pulp for modelling.

(5) A globe not less than 14 inches in diameter, with writing surface, and with line of latitude and longitude and outlines only of the land masses marked upon it.

- (6) A map of the school locality on a scale of 4" or 6" = 1 mile.
- (7) A map of the district in which the school is situated 1" = 1 mile.
- (8) A coloured map of the province.
- (9) A coloured political map of India.
- (10) A physical map of India.
- (11) A relief map of India.
- (12) A map of the world on Mollweild's equal area projection and a map of Assam.

It is essential that the students should be provided with atlases, or with the necessary hand map, and with a drawing instrument box. Maps for school work should not contain too much detail or be crowded with names.

II. The following additional equipment is recommended when it can be provided, but the lack of it is not to be considered as a bar to the recognition of the school in Geography:—

- (1) A thermometer.
- (2) A mercury barometer.
- (3) A rain-gauge.
- (4) A small collection of typical rocks; in particular, those of the province and India.
- (5) A small museum of typical products.
- (6) A good standard atlas.
- (7) Geographical pictures.
- (8) Magic lantern and slides.

(1) The attention of teachers is invited to the raised maps of Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam made of paper pulp, prepared by Babu Kailaschandra Dutt, Head Pandit, Habiganj Government Girls' School, Sylhet, and sold for Rs. 7 and Rs. 5, respectively.

(2) Globes of all kinds are made by George Phillip and Son, London, W., and A. K. Johnston, London, and Messrs. Ruddiman, London. Small hand globes of German make can be obtained through the Indian School Supply Depot for about a rupee each.

(3) The "Comparative" series of large wall maps of the continents published by George Phillip and Son is good and up to date; so also are the Geographical wall maps published by Edward Stanford. Messrs. Ruddiman Johnston publish a series of smaller wall maps which include maps of India illustrating various distributions.

Messrs. Nelson's wall atlases are good. Mr. S. B. Chatterjee publishes District Maps, also ordinary and relief maps of the province.

Babu L. M. Basu, the Drawing Master of the Dacca Collegiate School, has published good relief maps of Eastern Bengal and Assam and of India.

The Vidal-Lablache French wall maps on strong card-board, named on one side, and the same map without names on the reverse, published by Armond Collin, Paris, are good and cheap. They measure 46 inches by 39 inches and can be delivered in Calcutta for Rs. 4-14 each.

(4) The hand-maps coloured to indicate relief, published by the Diagram Company, West Barnes Lane, New Malden, Surrey, at one penny each, are the best of their kind.

The uncoloured half-penny maps showing river systems and a few towns, published by the same Company, are excellent for class use.

The autograph hand maps, with hill shading in brown, published by Messrs. Edward Stanford, London, at one penny each, are very good, and are larger than the Diagram Company's hand maps. The 15" map of the world on Mollweild's equal area projection is specially to be commended.

(5) Wall pictures of considerable artistic merit are published by Messrs. Edward Arnold of Leeds, Horns Hachette of Paris, Messrs. Holzner of Vienna, and Messrs. Longmans, Green and Company. They cost, delivered in India, from two or three rupees each.

Map lantern slides and view slides specially prepared for Geography teaching are sold by the Diagram Company for two or three shillings each. Mr. Burlington Smith of Darjeeling also sells good picture slides of the Himalayas at Rs. 15 per dozen.]

• Elementary Mechanics.

The following books are recommended:—

- A. N. Sen. Elementary Mechanics.
- Briggs and Brynn. Matriculation Mechanics.

The following list of apparatus is prescribed as indicating the approximate requirements of a recognised High School seeking to teach Elementary Mechanics for the Matriculation Examination:—

Plumb-line and level.
Simple lever (including brass slotted weight).
Roman steelyard.
Lecture apparatus for experiment on movements.
George's New Atwood's Machine.
Stop watch.

Wall Crane.
Becker's New Physical Balance.
Set of gramme weights (200 grams to 1 mgr.).
2 Composition Ivory Balls.

NOTE.—The above list is not exhaustive, and much of it might be replaced by similar forms that could probably be made far more cheaply by any clever mistry under proper supervision. In most cases, however, it will probably be found advantageous to buy such a set as indicated in the list, specially for demonstration purposes, and subsequently to develop simplified duplicates illustrating the same principles, which the boys should be given opportunity actually to experiment with, on their own individual account or working in pairs.

Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of State on the 25th September, 1929:—

C. OF S. BILL NO. 11 OF 1929.

A Bill further to alter the order in which certain heirs of a Hindu male dying intestate are entitled to succeed to his estate.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to alter the order in which certain heirs of a Hindu male dying intestate are entitled to succeed to his estate; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and application.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Hindu Law of Inheritance (Second Amendment) Act 1929.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan and the Sonthal Parganas, but it applies only to persons who, but for the passing of this Act, would have been subject to the Law of Mitakshara in respect of the provisions herein enacted; and it applies to such persons in respect only of the property of males not held in coparcenary and not disposed of by will.

Order of succession
of son's and brother's widow.

2. A son's widow shall, in the order of succession, be entitled to rank next after a widow and before a daughter; and a brother's widow, next after a daughter's daughter and before a sister.

Advantages.

3. Nothing in this Act shall—

- (a) affect any special family or local custom having the force of law, or
- (b) vest in a son's widow or a brother's widow an estate larger than, or different in kind from, that possessed by a female in property inherited by her from a male according to the school of Mitakshara law by which the male was governed, or
- (c) enable more than one person to succeed by inheritance to the estate of a deceased Hindu male which by a customary or other rule of succession descends to a single heir.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Indian Legislature has already passed an Act recognising the rights of such females as are related to the deceased owner by blood. This Bill purports to give similar recognition to such females in the family as are related by marriage. Every Hindu now recognises the hardship to which a predeceased son's widow or a brother's widow is put, when the property passes to distant relations. It is to remedy this hardship that this Bill is being promoted. The principle having already been recognised, there should be no objection to the provisions of the present Bill.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 26th September, 1929:—

L. A. BILL No. 21 OF 1929.

A Bill to repeal certain special enactments supplementing the ordinary criminal law.

WHEREAS it is expedient that certain special enactments supplementing the ordinary criminal law should be repealed; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

- Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Special Laws Repeal Act, 192 .
- Extent. 2. The repeal of any enactment by this Act shall have effect in every part of British India in which the enactment was in force at the date of the commencement of this Act, and any notification, made under any law for the time being in force, whereby any such enactment has been declared to be in force in, applicable to, or has been extended to, any such part, shall, on and from that date, be deemed to have been cancelled in so far as it relates to that enactment.
- Repeals. 3. The enactments mentioned in the Schedule are hereby repealed to the extent specified in the fourth column thereof.

THE SCHEDULE.

ENACTMENTS REPEALED.

(See section 3.)

Year.	No.	Short title.	Extent of Repeal.
Regulations.
1818	III	The Bengal State Prisoners Regulation, 1818.	The whole.
1819	II	The Madras State Prisoners Regulation, 1819.	The whole.
1827	XXV	A Regulation for the Confinement of State Prisoners, Bombay.	The whole.
Acts of the Governor General in Council.
1850	XXXIV	The State Prisoners Act, 1850	The whole.
1867	XXIII	The Punjab Murderous Outrages Act, 1867	The whole.
1911	X	The Prevention of Seditious Meetings Act, 1911.	The whole.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The ordinary criminal law of the land is sufficient to deal with persons guilty of offences against the State. The Indian Penal Code was not in the Statute-book when the Bengal, Madras and Bombay Regulations were enacted. The other three enactments, viz., Act XXXIV of 1850, Act XXIII of 1867 and Act X of 1911 are no longer necessary.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 26th September, 1929:—

L. A. BILL No. 22 of 1929.

A Bill to secure a share for Hindu widows in their husbands' family property.

WHEREAS it is expedient to secure a share for Hindu widows in their husbands' family property; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Hindu Widows' Right of Inheritance Act, 192 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan and the Sonthal Parganas.

(3) It shall come into force on the day of 192

Definition.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context, "Widow" includes the widow of a person who at the time of his death professed the Hindu, Jain or Sikh religion.

Widow's right to share in joint family and other property of her husband.

3. (1) Where the husband of a widow was at the time of his death a member of a joint family, the widow shall be entitled to such share of the joint family property as her husband would have been entitled to, had a partition taken place in his lifetime, and may sue for partition. This share shall become her absolute property.

(2) Where the husband of a widow was not at the time of his death a member of a joint Hindu family, the widow shall take all his property absolutely:

Provided that, should a widow adopt a son to her deceased husband, the personal law of adoption applicable to the widow shall take effect but to the extent of a moiety only of the family property.

Widow's share to be exclusive of stridhan.

4. A widow's share under this Act shall be exclusive of her independent personal property or her stridhan.

Widow's claim to maintenance to cease on separation of her share.

5. A widow's claim to maintenance from the funds of a joint family shall cease on the partition and separation of her share as provided in this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Hindu Law of Inheritance, so far as women are concerned, is unsatisfactory and unjust, and the position of Hindu widows under it is deplorable.

A Hindu woman does not get any share in her father's property—share in the sense of property of which she becomes absolute owner—nor does she get any in her husband's. Widow's right of inheritance is very scantily and sparingly recognised by different schools of Hindu law. Katynyana says "Let the widow succeed to her husband's wealth"—Mitakshara ii, 2 s. 2 (Mayne's Hindu Law, p. 757). Mayne says: "Originally she (the widow) shared in the general incapacity for inheritance which affected all women..... neither Manu, Apastamba, Vashishtha nor Narada recognise her right as heir though they do acknowledge that of the daughter and the mother," p. 759.

After tracing the growth of widow's rights, Mayne says that Mitakshara arrived at the conclusion that "the widow is entitled to inherit to her husband, if he died separated and not re-united and leaving no male issue, and this rule is now adopted universally except where the authority of Jimuta Vahana prevails," p. 762. He adds: "It is therefore equally settled in Bengal that a widow succeeds to her husband's share when he is undivided just as she would to the entire property of one who held as separated." But even in Bengal the widow of a son who predeceases his father undivided inherits nothing.

Then as a rule "a widow's right as heir does not go beyond the reason for it, viz., her claim to a personal maintenance. And this is the reason why, where a woman inherits to a male, his heirs and not hers take at her death." A widow's right is practically a right to maintenance and no more.

In practice a widow in Hindu society is at the mercy of coparceners. Even though her husband may have amassed the entire wealth of the family and she may, during his lifetime, have lived a life of affluence and luxury, as soon as he dies, the entire property goes to the surviving male members of the family and she becomes thenceforth only entitled to maintenance, which, as popularly understood, denotes bare means of living.

This state of affairs may have operated tolerably well in days when India was practically isolated from the rest of the world, and the principles and ideals underlying the joint Hindu family system were properly understood and fully acted upon by members of the family. But with the disappearance of those ideals which the originators of the joint family system had in view, the non-observance of the principles on which this system was originally based, the gradual and slowly continuing disintegration of the joint family system, the progressive loosening of caste bonds, resulting in gradual disappearance of the homogeneity and the harmony of Hindu society and various other causes—all due more or less to the acceptance of new ideas of life and conduct and the influence of foreign culture and contact—the Hindu Law of inheritance has begun to operate against women with a disastrous effect and their lives are becoming difficult and distressful and often miserable; while the condition of widows has become intolerable and in many cases appalling.

The present Bill proposes to give relief to Hindu widows by giving them a share in family property and making them sole owners of their deceased husband's personal property.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 26th September, 1929:—

L. A. BILL No. 23 OF 1929.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Majority Act, 1875.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Majority Act, 1875, so as to attain uniformity and certainty respecting the age of majority; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Majority (Amendment) Act, 1929.

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Governor General in Council may notify in this behalf.

Amendment of section 3, Act IX of 1875.

2. In section 3 of the Indian Majority Act, 1875, the words beginning with " of whose person or property " and ending with the words " the minor has attained that age " shall be omitted; and in the same section the words beginning with " Subject as aforesaid " to the end of the section shall be omitted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of the Bill is to attain that uniformity which the framers of the Act of 1875 desired to achieve. If it was too big a jump in 1875 to raise the age of majority from 15 years to 21 years, it is not so to-day, 50 years later, to raise it from 18 to 21 years, and that even only in a few cases. Young men at an age as early as 18 years are exposed to so much temptations and dangers that it is extremely necessary that they should be adequately protected. The modern tendency invariably is to increase the period of non-age. This Bill proposes to repeal those provisions of the Indian Majority Act of 1875 which make it possible for a minor to attain majority even at the age of 18 years.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 26th September, 1929:—

L. A. BILL No. 26 OF 1929.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Bar Councils Act 1926.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Bar Councils (Amendment) Act, 1929.

(2) It shall extend to the whole of British India, where the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926, is in force.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, appoint.

A amendment of section 4, Act XXXVIII of 1926.

2. In section 4 of the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act),—

(a) sub-section (3) shall be omitted; and

(b) the proviso to sub-section (4) shall be omitted.

Amendment of section 9, Act XXXVIII of 1926.

3. In section 9 of the said Act,—

(a) to sub-section (3) the following words shall be added at the end, namely:—

“and shall also provide for uniformity of rights, privileges and robes of advocates”; and

(b) sub-section (4) shall be omitted.

Amendment of section 14, Act XXXVIII of 1926.

4. In section 14 of the said Act,—

(a) in clause (a) of sub-section (1), the words and figures “subject to the provisions of sub-section (4) of section 9” shall be omitted; and

(b) sub-section (3) shall be omitted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The main object of the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926, was the creation of a united Indian Bar. There are certain provisions in the Act, which stand in the way of creation of a united bar by allowing distinction about rights and privileges among advocates. It is desirable that the Act should be so amended, which will do away with all distinctions among advocates, to facilitate the creation of a united Indian Bar.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 26th September, 1929:—

L. A. BILL NO. 27 OF 1929.

A Bill further to amend the Imperial Bank of India Act, 1920, for certain purposes.

¶ WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Imperial Bank of India Act, 1920, for certain purposes hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows:— XLVII of 1920.

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Imperial Bank of India (Amendment) Act, 1929.

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, appoint.

Insertion of new clauses and sub-section in section 10, Act XLVII of 1920.

2. After clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 10 of the Imperial Bank of India Act, 1920 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), the following clauses and sub-section shall be inserted, namely:— XLVII of 1920.

“(c) that from the date of the promulgation of this Act as amended, the total number of European officers shall not at any period exceed the number employed at the time of amalgamation of the Presidency Banks; and

(d) that the London branch shall provide training for at least five Indian graduates from recognised Universities every year.

(3) All future agreements with the Imperial Bank of India shall be subject to the approval of the Legislative Assembly and shall be of temporary nature.”

Amendment of section 28, Act XLVII of 1920.

3. In clause (v) of sub-section (1) of section 28 of the said Act, after the words “such number of Managing Governors not exceeding two as may be appointed by the Governor General in Council after consideration of the recommendations of the Central Board” the words “of whom one at least shall be an Indian” shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

It was expected that a Reserve Bank for India will come into existence and will exercise the privileges now enjoyed by the Imperial Bank of India at present. It will take a few more years till India has her own Reserve Bank under the control of the Government and people of India. Eventually the Imperial Bank of India will have to take place with other Banks in India, and hence it is desired that neither the Government of India nor the Secretary of State should enter into any further agreement without consent of the Legislative Assembly. The Imperial Bank of India Act, 1920, was framed mainly in the interests of its old constituents—the Presidency Banks, and it is desired in the interest of the tax-payers that the special privileges has been so far enjoying should not be abused.

2. A number of minor amendments in the interest of the tax-payers and the Indian public are also made to focus the attention of the authorities of the Imperial Bank to their definite obligations to India and Indians.

A Bill to remove certain existing disabilities in respect of the power of adoption amongst Hindus.

WHEREAS it is expedient to remove certain disabilities in respect of the power of adoption amongst Hindus; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title,
extent and
commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Adoption Validating Act, 19 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, provided that the Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, exclude any province from the operation of this Act.

(3) It shall come into force on the 1st day of 19

Adoption of sons of certain relatives legalised.

2. Notwithstanding any custom, rule or interpretation of the Hindu Law to the contrary, no adoption by a Hindu shall be invalid by reason only that the adoptive father could not have legally married in her maiden state the genitive mother of the adopted son.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill is intended to legalise the adoption of the daughter's son, sister's son, mother's sister's son and the like, whose adoptions are at present regarded by British Indian Courts as invalid, amongst the three higher classes of Hindus. This rule of prohibition is based on a fantastic conception, itself the result of an implication arising from a pure metaphor, that the adopted son must be the "reflectum" of the natural-born son. Out of this conception a rule came to be gradually evolved that the adopted boy must not be so related to the adoptive father that he latter could not have married his genitive mother in her maiden state. The rule, when so stated, had the effect of excluding from the circle of persons capable of being adopted some of the most eligible relatives like the daughter's son, or sister's son. Consequently, in course of time, attempts were made to evade the rule, and ultimately, by a somewhat forced interpretation of the Smriti texts, the disqualification came to be restricted, for instance in the Bombay Presidency, to the three higher classes of Hindus.

(See Ramchandra Krishna Joshi and others versus Gopal Dhonoo Joshi and others—I. L. R. 32 Bombay, 619.)

Even amongst these classes, exceptions have been recognised to this rule, apparently as the result of . . . amongst the Brahmins of the Southern Maratha Country the adoption of a daughter's son or sister's son is allowed.

(See Vayidināla* Appn—I. L. R. 9 Madras, 44.)

Likewise, the adoption of a daughter's son has been recognised amongst Brahmins in many parts of the Madras Presidency.

Many eminent commentators of the texts and also British Indian judges have doubted the propriety of this prohibition, and there are strong grounds in support of the view that, even in ancient times, the texts giving rise to the prohibition were regarded as purely recommendatory. It is, therefore, thought expedient and desirable to remove the restriction altogether, the origin and propriety of which were always doubtful, and to extend the adoptive father's freedom of choice to some of his nearest relatives (such as his daughter's son), who from the viewpoint of natural love and affection may be regarded as most eligible for adoption.

3. Notwithstanding any custom, rule or interpretation of the Hindu law to the contrary, no property being gains of learning made by the acquirer shall be held not to be his exclusive and separate property—

(a) by reason of such learning having been, in whole or in part, imparted to him by any member, living or deceased, of such family, or with the aid of the joint funds of such family, or with the aid of the funds of any member thereof, or

(b) by reason of himself or his family having, while he was acquiring such learning, been maintained or supported, wholly or in part, by the joint funds of such family or by the funds of any member thereof.

Saving clause.

4. Nothing in this Act contained shall affect—

(a) any decision which may have been passed in any suit or proceeding before the coming into operation of this Act by any Court or other competent authority;

(b) any right or liability created under a partition of, or an agreement for a partition of, joint family property, made prior to the commencement of this Act;

(c) any right or liability of any party to a suit or proceeding pending at the date of the commencement of this Act;

(d) any alienation made of, or charge created over, any property prior to the commencement of this Act by any person other than the acquirer; or

(e) any sale made, prior to the commencement of this Act, in execution of a decree.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.*

This Bill reproduces what, it is submitted, is the true rule of the Hindu Law, in the matter of individual and personal earnings by the member of a joint family. It derives support from the equitable and liberal spirit which pervades the utterances of the Smriti writers (with almost a solitary exception) on the subject-matter of this Bill and which forms quite a contrast to the narrow views of the latter-day commentators and the decisions based thereon. The opinion of many eminent British Indian Judges, including their Lordships of the Privy Council, who have approached the subject without prepossession, is distinctly in favour of the principle of the Bill. The propriety of conceding to the acquirer the sole and independent right to his gains of learning is not merely a matter of expediency, but a question of natural justice which, in modern times, can hardly be gainsaid by any fair-minded person. The Bill, if passed, will check wasteful, harassing and unrighteous litigation, remove distrust and greatly tend to promote peace and goodwill among members of Hindu families. The measure will likewise lead to a profitable employment of capital, that is otherwise locked up in jewellery and in safes, by removing some of the obstacles existing in the present state of the law, which induce a wealthy member of a family to keep his savings in disguised investments in landed property, rather than in an open and easily convertible form.

2. An important result of the proposed Bill will be that it will immensely improve the position of the female members in a Hindu family. The widow and the daughter of the acquirer, often left helpless, will in the absence of male issue, take by inheritance the deceased's gains of learning in preference to distant male members who can, under the present law, lay claim to the same by survivorship.

3. The present rule is archaic. It is based upon a misconception of the true spirit of the Hindu Law and has, in modern conditions of Hindu society, the effect of stagnation. It breeds most wasteful litigation, as is obvious to any one, who has even a cursory acquaintance with reported Indian decisions or the Daily Cause Lists of judicial tribunals. It is necessary that the original doctrine should be revived, which will set the spirit of private enterprise and individual exertion once more free from the trammels imposed in later times.

4. The Bill aims at laying down the law in a progressive spirit suited to modern times, and in terms free from ambiguity. It seeks to remove the grave uncertainty and doubt which hang round the question. The important modification of the existing law, which it seeks to introduce, is to put the gains of special or scientific learning on the same footing as those of ordinary education. There are cogent reasons, in modern conditions of life, for the adoption of such a course. Any other plan must result in impracticable and fanciful distinctions and anomalies. To refer only to one case which is a fruitful source of harassing litigation. The issue is comparatively clear as to cases where the education imparted at the expense of the family funds is a purely elementary one. (Lakshman versus Jannabai, 1. L. R. 6 Bombay 225.) It is equally clear where such instruction is in a special branch of education, for instance, training for the I. C. S. (Gokal Chand versus Hukam Chand-Nath, L. R. 48, Indian Appeals, p. 162.) But the issue is not clear in cases which fall neither in the one nor in the other category. Such cases are numerous.

5. Under the old law of the Smritis (with possibly the single exception of Katyayana), acquisitions made by means of learning were the exclusive property of the acquirer. (See, e.g., Munu Smriti, Chapter IX, Verse 206, Narada Smriti, Chapter XIII, Verse 6.) There was no distinction drawn between ordinary or special and scientific education, nor between ordinary and extraordinary gains of learning. If, however, the acquisition itself was made with the aid of family funds, it was divisible among the coparceners. Later commentators, however, relying upon the text of Katyayana, have placed restrictions on the right of the acquirer in the gains made by him by means of his learning. According to these later authorities, the gains of science are divisible among the members of the family, if the acquirer was instructed in the science by a member of his family or if, while he was studying the science, he or his family had been maintained by other members of the undivided family. It was only when the learning was acquired from a stranger and while receiving maintenance from strangers, that the gains of science formed the separate property of the acquirer. According to these commentators, whether the learning is ordinary or special, the gains of such learning are divisible if the learning was imparted at the expense of the family or by a member of the family. The Mitakshara does not make any difference between the ordinary and extraordinary gains of learning.

6. The view taken by the Courts with regard to this question has undergone considerable fluctuations. At first it was held that the gains of an ordinary general education, at all events the ordinary gains of such education, were partible, if the education was imparted at the family expense or was received by a person in the enjoyment of a family maintenance. Latterly, however, the tendency of the Courts has been in favour of the opposite view, viz., that the gains of education imparted at the expense of the family are divisible only when the education is in a special branch of science which is the source of acquisition and not the elementary or general education which is the necessary stepping stone to the acquisition of all science. The view taken by the Courts at the present time is opposed to the ancient texts, and is based upon distinctions of an unworkable character which have caused great uncertainty and confusion in their practical application. They place one class of earnings at a great disadvantage. The large majority of people who acquire property by means merely of an ordinary or general education, can treat their gains as their separate property; but the comparatively smaller section of the community, which acquires property by means of a special, scientific or extraordinary education, must divide its gains with the other members of the family. There is often great difficulty in working out the distinction drawn between the two classes of cases. What is special or scientific education and what is ordinary or general education is a matter which it is extremely difficult to determine. The standard of education varies in different localities, in different classes and in different families. It is also shifting from time to time. What might at one time have been regarded as extraordinary education becomes ordinary education after the lapse of some years. What might be ordinary education in the case of a wealthy family would be extraordinary education in a family of scanty means. The result is a great uncertainty of the present law. It is impossible for any person who acquires property by his learning to feel any certainty that his earnings will be regarded as his own. The uncertainty is greater if the distinction drawn in some of the texts and decisions between ordinary and extraordinary gains of learning is borne in mind.

7. A state of the law which renders it impossible for the acquirer of property to know whether he can or cannot exercise any control over it, calls for immediate alteration. The desire of a person to keep for himself what he has earned and the disposition to regard such earnings as his exclusive property are so universal that the claim of the acquirer to his acquisitions must be regarded as natural and legitimate. Likewise, the legal recognition of the claim of the acquirer to be master of his own earnings is the strongest impetus to exertion, an incentive to increase his wealth and a means of promoting the progress of the community.

8. The question did not assume any great importance till modern times, for self-acquisitions were comparatively rare. Under the old conditions of life, when the members of a family all lived together in the same place and followed the same occupation, there was seldom any scope for such acquisition. But, under the altered conditions of present-day life, when the joint family is constantly splitting up and the members leave their ancestral home for different places to seek their living by new pursuits, not merely is the strength of the family tie considerably loosened, but the amount of the acquisitions of the individual members is, in the main, determined by the capacity, character and special aptitude of the individual.

9. It cannot be denied that the consequences of the present law are unfair to the acquirer and his widow and female issue. So long as he remains an undivided member of the family, the other members have an equal share in his earnings during his life time, and the acquirer cannot make a gift, inter vivos or after his death, out of his acquisitions even to his own daughter or widow, in order to redress the inequalities of the Hindu Law of Intestate succession. The idle members of his family do not act very hostilely to the earner in his life-time, for he can effect a partition, and thereby deprive them of all opportunity of sharing his subsequent earnings. Troubles generally arise after the death of the acquirer, and they affect persons least able to protect themselves. If the acquirer dies leaving a widow and female children only, the children are entitled to nothing, and the widow has a bare claim to maintenance. A more shocking case of injustice can hardly be imagined. The proposed measure will have the effect of raising in some cases at least, the status of women and uplifting them out of a position of helpless dependence in which they are placed by the present law.

10. By depriving a person of control over his earnings, the present law checks the natural impulses to earn and to save. It has also the effect of compelling the acquirer of property to find a means of circumventing the restrictions of the law. It exercises a demoralizing influence upon his character by inducing him to have recourse to dishonest subterfuges like binami transactions.

11. Likewise, the present rule is not favourable to the growth of self-reliance among the dependent members of the family. In a rich family, it offers a premium to extravagance, idleness and perpetual discord. Its injustice is manifestly falling. Take, e.g., a case in which a father has three sons and incurs the same expenditure on their education. He sends them all to England to be educated for the I. C. S. One is successful, the other two fail. Of the two who fail, one takes to trade, the other is unwilling to do any work and remains idle. The trader earns a large fortune, which the present law allows him to keep to himself, because his education in England was for the Civil Service and not for trade. But, out of the earnings of the Civilian, two shares are claimed, one by the trader and the other by the brother who has been idle. The trader keeps his own earnings and also takes a share of the Civilian's earnings. Take again a case in which three brothers are given by their father the same education, for the same profession and at the same cost. Though they have had the same start in life, the degree of success attained by them may vary according to the differences of aptitude, character and other advantages, natural or accidental. Is there any reason in this case why the more successful brother should be compelled to share his earnings with his less able brothers? It is not suggested here that the claim of a brother to support and assistance should not be recognised by his more fortunate brother, but the claim should rest upon purely moral sanctions, and should not be invested with any legal recognition. Knowing, as we all do, the great intensity of family ties among Hindus, it would be absurd to contend that, if legal obligations were removed, the moral obligation would cease to be recognised even to the extent to which it prevails among non-Hindu races.

12. There is, likewise, ample basis for the view that the ancient Hindu Law did not regard a person who spent money upon the education of a member of his family as having any legal right to reimbursement or return of the outlay. Ages ago, it was laid down by the Smritis, and it is still the law, that an educated member of the family is entitled to demand a partition at any time and his share is not liable to be debited with even a farthing of the cost of his education, however high it may have been. Nor can the member who has made the outlay compel the member, educated at his expense, to earn or to save or even to postpone his demand for partition, and it is perfectly true to assert that a member of the family who spends money for another's education has no legal right to any return of the outlay. His expectation of benefit, if any, is a mere moral expectation, and it is neither necessary nor feasible to clothe it with legal sanction without violating the most deep-rooted principles of the Hindu law.

13. If an educated member of a family, unrestrained by feelings of delicacy, forces a partition as soon as he begins to earn, the family has no legal claim upon him for reimbursement of the outlay made on his education, nor any share in his future acquisitions. It is not, therefore, merely anomalous but unjust that, while in such a case the earning member should be able to keep all his earnings to himself, the educated member who, from feelings of generous delicacy, does not wish to enforce a partition against the other members, but confers benefits upon them during the time they are joint, should, in return for his generosity, be subjected to the penalty of a forfeiture of the greater part of his own acquisitions.

14. The Bill will also have the effect of preventing an inquiry into the character of the education and the means by which such education was imparted. The difficulties of such an inquiry in any suit concerning the property of the acquirer are enormous, especially when it takes place after the death of the acquirer and many years after the completion of his education. In most cases, such an inquiry is very harassing, when conducted at the expense of the estate and with a helpless widow or daughter on the defensive.

15. No fear need be entertained that the present Bill, if passed into law, will lead to the violent break-up of the joint family system, for, while the existing law furnishes the strongest inducement to the educated member to separate himself as soon as he begins to make a respectable income, the Bill, on the other hand, would remove this inducement.

16. The Bill is in conformity with the unquestionable working of the 'great law of property' as Ruskin called it, which obtains in all civilised countries and according to which a man who works for a thing shall be allowed to get it, keep it and consume it in peace.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 26th September, 1929:—

L. A. BILL No. 30 OF 1929.

A Bill to regulate the publication of reports of judicial proceedings in such manner as to prevent injury to public morals.

WHEREAS it is expedient to regulate the publication of reports of judicial proceedings in such manner as to prevent injury to public morals; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title,
extent and
commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Judicial Proceedings Regulation Act, 1929.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India including British Baluchistan and the Sonthal Parganas.

(3) It shall come into force on the 1929.

Publication of judicial proceedings relating to an indecent matter.

2. It shall not be lawful to print or publish or cause or procure to be printed or published in relation to any judicial proceedings any indecent matter or indecent medical, surgical or physiological details, being matter or details the publication of which would be calculated to injure public morals:

Provided that nothing in this section shall apply to the printing of any pleading, transcript of evidence or other document for use in connection with any judicial proceeding or the communication thereof to persons concerned in the proceedings or to the printing or publishing of any notice or report in pursuance of the directions of Court, or the printing or publishing of any matter in any separate volume or part of a bonâ fide series of law reports or in any publication of a technical character bonâ fide intended for circulation among members of the legal or medical profession.

Punishment.

3. If any person acts in contravention of the provisions of this Act, he shall in respect of each act be liable on summary conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two months or to a fine not exceeding one thousand rupees or to both such imprisonment and fine:

Provided that no person other than a proprietor, editor, master, printer or publisher shall be liable to be convicted under this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Progressive countries have realised the necessity of preventing the publication of indecent details concerning judicial proceedings, the two outstanding examples being France and Great Britain. The necessity that arises in this behalf is an urgent one particularly in cases where minor children are involved and where sordid details of domestic life have to be exposed in law-courts. This Bill follows generally the lines and language of the British enactment covering the same subject.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 26th September, 1929:—

L. A. BILL No. 31 OF 1929.

A Bill to abolish the punishment of death for offences under the Indian Penal Code.

WHEREAS it is expedient to abolish the punishment of death in British India, which may be inflicted in pursuance of sentences passed under the Indian Penal Code; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent,
application and
commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Abolition of Capital Punishment Act, 19 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan, and the Sonthal Parganas.

(3) The provisions of this Act shall apply to all persons to whom the provisions of the Indian Penal Code apply.

(4) It shall come into force on the 1st January, 1931.

Abolition of capital punishment.

2. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Penal Code whereby Courts are empowered to pass a sentence of death by way of punishment, no Court in British India shall pass such sentence of death for any offence committed in or outside British India, by any person to whom the provisions of this Act apply.

Exception.—The provisions of this Act shall not affect the provisions of section 132 of the Indian Penal Code or, of the Indian Army Act, 1911, or any other law or Statute passed either by the Indian Legislature or the British Parliament, under which death penalty can be inflicted, and which affects the discipline or maintenance of His Majesty's military, naval or air forces in India.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Capital punishment has been wholly or partly abolished in many of the progressive countries of the world. Australia, Belgium, Denmark, Holland, Italy, Norway, Portugal, Sweden, and a few States in America, have already done away with death penalty. Public opinion in England, and in many other countries is also coming round to the view that capital punishment is a relic of barbarism, and is not suited to the social needs of the present time. The plea that capital punishment acts as a deterrent, and exercises a restraining influence, is not borne out by the experience of modern States.

The arguments in support of the abolition of the death penalty are shortly as follows:—

It demoralises those who inflict it: its harshness has the effect of coarsening the public sentiment. To authorise killing is to tamper with the sanctity of human life; sometimes innocent persons have been sentenced to death, and in such cases no reparation is possible. Science has now proved that murders are often committed under the influence of a frenzy, which is of the nature of a disease, and has to be treated like many other diseases by proper therapeutic means. To end the life of such criminal may seem to be a short cut; but it has the effect of depriving the culprit of all opportunity of improvement under proper remedial conditions. In times when the dignity of human life was not adequately realised, public conscience tolerated this drastic remedy. But with the growth of a larger perception of the economy of human life, and the need of making the best use of the same, it is necessary that means should be adopted to remove this method of punishment. The principle that punishment for offences should be primarily regarded as a means of correction and reformation of criminals and criminally inclined persons, as also as a means of educating the social conscience of the community against crimes of violence or cruelty makes it imperative under modern conditions that the death penalty for offences should be abolished. The provisions of the Bill are accordingly intended to give effect to the above objects.

The Bill is not intended to affect any Statute of the British Parliament applicable to India; nor does it in any way affect discipline in His Majesty's army, navy, or air force.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 26th September, 1929:—

L. A. BILL No. 32 of 1929.

A Bill further to amend the Court-fees Act, 1870, for a certain purpose.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Court-fees Act, 1870, for a certain purpose hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Court-fees (Amendment) Act, VII of 1929.

(2) It shall apply only to Ajmer-Merwara.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Amendment of section 7, Act VII of 1870.

2. To clause (ii) of section 7 of the Court-fees Act, 1870, the following proviso shall be added, namely:—

“ Provided that, in suits for maintenance by widows, the amount of fee payable under this Act shall be computed according to the value of the subject matter of the suit and such value shall be deemed to be the amount claimed to be payable for one year only.”

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under section 7, clause (ii), of the Court-fees Act, 1870, the amount of fee payable in suits for maintenance is computed according to the value of the subject matter of the suit which is deemed to be ten times the amount claimed to be payable for one year. This operates with great hardship on poor widows, who have to sue for maintenance. A widow claiming Rs. 10 a month for maintenance has under the present law to pay court-fees on Rs. $10 \times 12 \times 10$ —Rs. 1,200 and then process fees to get witnesses summoned have to be paid in addition, and these fees are also computed on this large sum of Rs. 1,200. Widows who claim maintenance are very poor and they can hardly afford to pay such high court-fee and process fees. They have often, therefore, to forego their right of maintenance and have to live at the mercy of the people, who are under legal obligation to maintain them. In cases, where widows are able to raise money to pay such high fees, they do so on terms which impose very heavy, often unbearable, burdens on them.

Moreover, claims for maintenance by widows are distinguishable from other claims for maintenance and annuities and deserve more considerate treatment.

This Bill proposes to give facilities to widows claiming relief in this respect by reducing the value of the subject matter of the suit from 10 times the amount claimed to be payable for one year, to the amount claimed to be payable for one year only.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 26th September, 1929:—

L. A. BILL NO. 33 OF 1929.

A Bill to make better provision for certain heirs, under Hindu Law, especially with respect to women, regarding their rights of inheritance.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make better provision for certain heirs, under Hindu Law, especially with respect to women, regarding their rights of inheritance; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Hindu Law (Amendment) Act, 1929.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on and from the day of 1929.

Share of daughter.

2. Notwithstanding any provision of Hindu Law to the contrary, and irrespective of the fact that she changes her religion or that she is married or unmarried, barren or issueless, or with issue, which is male or female, indigent or wealthy, chaste or unchaste, widowed or not, or suffering from disease, distemper, or deformity, curable or incurable, or that there is a custom excluding her from inheritance, every daughter in a Hindu family shall be entitled to inherit the property, ancestral or otherwise, of her father:

Provided that—

(i) where he leaves sons or grandsons or great-grandsons in the male line, a daughter shall take only a share equal to half of what she would get, if all the children of the father were sons;

(ii) where he leaves a widow, father or mother along with female issue, the latter shall take, out of the share provided for in proviso (1) supra, only two-thirds, and the remaining one-third shall be taken for life by the widow, father, or mother, or, all together, or such of them as shall be in existence, at the time, and the reversion therein shall be vested in the female issue abovesaid, or failing them, their heirs;

(iii) where the property left by the father is an impartible Estate, or an Estate in which the law of Primogeniture prevails, or both, the eldest daughter shall succeed to the whole Estate of the father, in cases where he leaves no male issue or widow; and every daughter who does not take the Estate itself, shall, as to rights of maintenance and other rights to properties, be in the same position, as if she were a younger son of the father, except that, in cases where he leaves a son or sons, the daughter or daughters shall have a right to recover, from the holder of the Estate, half of the maintenance, which a younger brother would get, if all the children of the father were sons.

Nature of right taken by daughter.

3. Every daughter, inheriting her father's or mother's property, shall take the same or her share therein, absolutely; and for purposes of inheritance by her heirs, the property shall be treated as her Stridhanam, with rights of disposition:

Provided that—

(i) in cases where a daughter inherits the whole property of the father, and dies leaving one or more sons or daughters, or both, the share shall pass to her, absolutely, in the proportion of 3 to 1; and in the absence of children, the whole share, and in default of sons, but the existence of daughter or daughters, two shares out of the four, shall pass to the reversioners of the father, and the remaining two shares be taken by the daughter, or daughters together;

- (ii) in cases where the daughter does not get the whole share of the father, but only a fractional share of a son or sons, as provided in this section, the property, which she so inherits, shall pass absolutely to her sons and daughters, in the proportion of 3 to 1 abovesaid; and in default of daughters, the whole property, which she inherits, shall pass to the sons; and in default of the latter, to her daughters; and in default of both sons and daughters, to her other heirs, but not to the reversioners of her father.

Nature of right
taken by widow

4. Notwithstanding any rule of the Mitakshara to the contrary, every widow shall have a right to enjoy, during her life-time, or widowhood (in the event of re-marriage) any share of the property, to which her husband would have been entitled, if a partition had been effected just prior to his death:

Provided that where the husband has left male issue, she shall be entitled, during her life, to a share equal to that of a son.

Order of succession
of sister and sister's son.

5. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Mitakshara or Dayabhaga schools of Hindu Law, the sister and sister's son shall rank, in the order of succession, next after the brother's grandson.

Women's right to partition.

6. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Hindu Law, a woman shall have a right to claim partition of a share, to which she may be entitled and get the same separated.

Rights of alienation in a joint Hindu family.

7. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Mitakshara, a member of a joint Hindu family shall be entitled to alienate family property by way of gift, devise, sale, mortgage or the like with respect to the whole or any portion of his share.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

It is intended by this Bill to extend the scope of the Hindu Law of Inheritance, as at present administered, by giving larger rights to women generally and to the members of a Hindu joint family and also to sister's sons and other heirs. As regards the existing rights of inheritance of women under Hindu Law, there is a large body of public opinion which desires that their position should be improved, especially that of daughters and widows. I have thought over the matter and consulted friends on the subject; and I must confess that while the desire to improve the position of daughters, sisters, sister's son and widows, to mention only a few of the heirs under Hindu Law, is strong in them, there is not only no consensus of opinion, as to what should exactly be their position and status, with respect to succession, but there is a great diversity and divergence of opinion. Some say that the giving of a share to women and a right to partition will tend to create disruption of the Hindu joint family system, and therefore suggest that only the value of the share should be given to them. Some are of opinion that, if the value of the share be given to them the husband, the father-in-law, or other male relations, as the case may be, of the daughter, the widow, and other female heirs, will have an incentive to appropriate it to themselves, in times of need. They, therefore, suggest the advisability of giving them an annuity and making it to enure for the benefit, if necessary, of their issue, wholly, or until their education is completed, or their marriage is over, or majority is attained. I had therefore to draft Bills, from time to time, on different considerations. At last, I considered it better to provide a share to these heirs.

One object I kept in view throughout was, not altogether to ignore the claims of reversioners, who seemed to me to be unpopular in the eyes of some of the present-day Hindus, with respect to their rights of succession. They were allowed rights on the ground that it is they who have, in the absence of nearer heirs, to promote the spiritual benefit, by offering oblations and pinda to the propositus, in cases where he dies issueless. My chief aim in not ignoring their claim is to give some importance to the offer of pinda and oblation, which most of the Hindus believe would tend to the spiritual benefit of the propositus.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

In clause 2 of the Bill I provide for the daughter a share in the property of the father. My reason for this is, that, I consider, it is only just, for she shares, with sons, the same blood and has as good a place in her parent's affections as the sons.

As the Law at present stands, under the Mitakshara School of Hindu Law, if one of two undivided brothers dies first, leaving a daughter, and afterwards the surviving brother dies childless, the estate will pass to the collateral relations and not to the daughter of the first brother. But, under the Dayabhaga School, which obtains in Bengal the daughter would, at once, take the share of her deceased father. In this case, and circumstances such as these, the administration of Law, so far as the daughters governed by the Mitakshara

School is concerned, is felt to be a great hardship. I have therefore practically suggested that, in this respect, the law under Mitakshara should be brought into line, with that under Dayabhaga, and in those parts of the country where the Mitakshara prevails she should be allowed a definite share. The idea of allowing female issue a share in her father's estate is not altogether foreign to Hindu Law. If I remember aright, Yagyavalkyn advocated a share to daughters.

The clause makes it clear that daughters shall have a share, irrespective of any circumstances, in which they may be placed. My reason for this is, there is a great variance in this matter in different parts of the country; and I consider these differences should not be kept up in the present conditions of things. There are certain castes, in certain parts of India, where there are local or family customs, by which a daughter is excluded from succeeding to the widow of her father.

In Bengal, incontinence will prevent a daughter taking the estate of her father. In other parts of India, virtue in the daughter is not considered essential for her to inherit; and it is not enforced in the case of any female heir other than a widow or wife.

Again, in a decision reported in the Bombay High Court Reports, it was stated that a daughter should be excluded from inheritance, in case she suffered from an incurable disease, on the authority of Smriti Chandrika, which based its views as to rights of daughters, upon religious principles; but the Madras High Court declined to accept this view. Similarly, with regard to other matters mentioned in the proviso, there is a great divergence of opinion. I consider that, in this matter, she should be given a right, unfettered by any conditions.

Proviso 1 allows daughters no equal share with sons, but only a moiety of their share. The reason for this distinction is that while both the son and daughter share their parent's blood equally and are equally high in the affections of their parents, one continues in the family and perpetuates the lineage of the father, the other passes out of it into a different family. On this account, I considered that a differentiation in the matter of the share was proper.

Proviso 2 deals with the cases of the rights of a widow, mother or father of a person to whose properties daughters succeed along with the sons or by themselves, when the father is devoid of male issue. Considering that a father is bound to maintain them irrespective of the possession of assets from their ancestors, it is only right they should not be altogether neglected by their grandsons (so far as the parents of the father are concerned) and by their sons (so far as their own mother or step-mother is concerned). I, therefore, thought it right, they should get a portion of the share provided for the daughters for their lives, with a reversion of the same to the daughters or on their default to their heirs.

Proviso 3 places the eldest daughter in the same position as the eldest son, so far as her right to succession to Impartible Estates, and to estates in which the Law of Primogeniture prevails, or in both; and in all cases where the father leaves no sons, it gives to the other daughters the same rights as to the younger sons left by the father, whose property is taken by the eldest son alone.

Clause 3 gives daughters in the share provided for her, absolute powers, except that in case where she inherits the whole property of her father, it is, in a certain proportion, divided between her sons and daughters as it is considered just, that the daughters also should get a small share in her mother's property, inherited by the latter, from her father, along with her sons. The son is necessarily provided with a larger share, as he gives pinda to his maternal grandfather, which daughters cannot do. In case of the failure of issue, or in case of the existence of only daughters, on the principle that those who give pinda to the maternal grandfather should be also benefited, I provided reversion of the whole share in the former case, and a half share in the latter case.

In cases where she has brothers and gets a fractional share, I provided that her children, and in their absence, her heirs, shall take her share and not the father's reversioners, as the father has male heirs to attend to his spiritual needs.

Clause 4 deals with the case of the widow's right. Under Dayabhaga school of law, a widow is entitled to the share of her husband for life. This is, of course, due to the fact that the law, as administered under Dayabhaga school, treats each member of an undivided family as a tenant in common and not as a joint tenant. Under Mitakshara school of law, the case is different; and a widow is entitled to maintenance from members of a joint Hindu family, though she succeeds to her husband's share, where he leaves self-acquired or separate property. It is proposed in this clause to follow the provisions of Dayabhaga in all cases. I know that there is a difference of opinion, on this matter, among those, who follow the rules of the Mitakshara. Whatever be the view taken the maintenance now allowed to the widows under Hindu Law as administered in parts other than Bengal, where Dayabhaga law prevails, varies from the full income of the share of the husband to a trifle, at the discretion of Courts. In order to give effect to her right to the full share of her husband's income, I provided that the share of the husband should be given to her for life, as in Bengal.

Proviso to clause 4 gives a widow, in cases where the husband leaves male issue, a share equal to that of a son for her life. I think it is only reasonable that the mother who was the mistress of the house before her husband's death, should be treated equally with a son in the matter of a share, though such share be limited for her life.

Clause 5 deals with the cases of sister, and sister's son. Both, these are very hard cases deserving of great consideration.

In the case of a sister and her position as heir under Hindu Law, it has a chequered career. Mayne in his Hindu Law stated as follows: "She is said to have no religious efficacy whatever, as she cannot offer any oblations to her brother. Benares writers, while accepting her as a sapinda, by reason of affinity, do not make her a gotrasapinda, as she passes into a strange gotra immediately on her marriage. A passage in Sancha and Lachita seems to affirm the right of a sister to succeed to her brother. Nandapandita and Balambhatta interpret the text of the Mitakshara, which gives inheritance to brethren, as including sisters, so that brothers take first and then sisters. The Bombay High Court, though it accepted this interpretation, does not fix her position in the line of heirs. But this is said to be opposed to the spirit of the Benares Law. Her position now stands as follows. In Bombay her right to succeed to the brother is beyond dispute. In Bengal and Benares, she has no right. In Madras, her right was recognised a few years ago and she is placed, even where she is recognised as heir, very far away from daughters and brothers." This, I consider, is very unjust.

Similarly with regard to sister's son, the same high authority says that "he has suffered and been suffering grave injustice in the matter of his right of inheritance. Among the Bandhus who are omitted by the Mitakshara, the sister's son has had the severest struggle for existence, having even run the gauntlet of an adverse decision from the Privy Council. His right has always been recognised under Bengal Law. She is expressly named by the Dayabhaga. In the provinces governed by Mitakshara (not including Western India) it was supposed that she had no claim and this view was put forward almost unanimously by Text writers, Pandits, and Judges. The decision of the Bengal High Court was afterwards followed by the Madras High Court and in the High Court of the North-Western Province." In the circumstances I thought it would be only right to advance their ranks in the order of succession.

Clause 6 deals with the right of women to claim partition. "In former times," according to Mayne, again "when partitions were made, interests of women were much better provided for, than at present. When partition took place at father's death, the mother and the grandmother were each entitled to a share equal to the sons and the unmarried daughters each to a fourth share. If sons chose to remain undivided, they had a right to do so. Women could never compel a division. This still obtains where the father leaves male issue." To me it looks unreasonable and unjust to give woman a right to division and yet place restrictions thereon. I therefore provided for this right.

In spite of all this, the sister and sister's son were recognised by decisions to be mere heirs. This is hardly fair. They deserve to be brought much nearer than they are at present in the matter of their rank in the order of succession. What is, after all the difference between a brother and sister, except it be their sex? While one continues in the gotra, the other goes out of it. The same thing may be stated with regard to the brother's son and sister's son. So far as the blood relationship is concerned, one is as near to the propositus as the other. In the case of the sister's son he is in a position to attend to the spiritual necessities of his maternal uncle. I therefore think it is only right that these two heirs, the sister and her son should be promoted and allowed to rank at least after the brother's grandson. I, therefore, suggest that these be ranked as provided for in the order of succession.

Clause 7 deals with the right of alienation by a member of a joint Hindu family to dispose of his share of property as he likes. At present, an alienation by him is invalid, unless he was divided or had declared, in an unequivocal manner, his intention to divide or separate (vide 31 M. L. J. 55 P. C.; 43 I. A. 15). If he so likes, just before he devised his property, he could make this declaration and then his disposition is held to be valid. In these circumstances, there is no meaning in saying that a coparcener has no right to devise property, when he can do it by means or merely making an unequivocal declaration.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 26th September 1929:—

L. A. BILL No. 36 OF 1929.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Penal Code.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Penal Code; XLV of 1860. It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Penal Code (Amendment) Act, 192 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on the first day of April, 192 .

Insertion of new section 317A in Act XLV of 1860.

2. After section 317 of the Indian Penal Code the following section XLV of 1860. shall be inserted, namely:—

Punishment of putative father as abettor of offence by mother under section 317.

“ 317A. Whenever the mother of an illegitimate child, below the age of twelve years, shall expose or leave such child in any place with the intention of wholly abandoning such child and is convicted under section 317 of this Act, or of murder or culpable homicide, as the case may be, if the child dies in consequence of the exposure, the putative father of the child shall be charged with abetment of the offence for which the mother has been accused or convicted, and shall be presumed to be guilty until the contrary is proved, and he shall be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to seven years, or with fine, or with both.”

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Man-made laws have at times been extremely harsh on women folk. A woman often suffers special obloquy and even gets outcasted if she becomes a mother through free love while in unmarried or widowed state. To save herself from social ostracism often she has recourse to exposure of the child of the illicit love on the roadside. At times the poor mother has not the wherewithal to support the child and social ostracism forces her to abandon the child. The law—man-made law it is in every case—provides for exemplary punishment to the unfortunate woman, but the real culprit—man who seduced and abandoned the helpless girl and the innocent child in their deplorable state—goes unpunished. The present Bill, if passed into law, will hold the putative father equally guilty for the murder of the innocent child, and he shall be liable to receive equal punishment with the mother. Incidentally such a deterrent law will minimise seduction of helpless widows and maidens, and illicit love will be a forbidden fruit.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 26th September, 1929 :—

L. A. BILL No. 39 OF 1929.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Electricity Act, 1910, for certain purposes.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Electricity Act, 1910, for certain purposes hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Electricity (Amendment) Act, 1929.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on the 1st day of January, 1929.

Amendment of section 37, Act IX of 1910.

2. In clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 37 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910, after the words "regulate the publication of notices" the words "in any newspaper published in the area of supply, or, in absence of the same, in a newspaper published in the province," shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 37 of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910, empowers the Governor-General in Council to make rules to regulate generation, transmission, supply and use of energy, and, generally, to carry out the purposes and objects of the Act, and the Indian Electricity Rules of 1922 were framed for that purpose.

Applicants for an electric licence to supply in any area of supply are required to advertise the draft licence in three successive issues of the same newspaper published or circulated in the proposed area of supply. This loophole "circulated in the proposed area of supply" leads to many abuses. Advertisements have appeared in newspapers published outside the province even. That was not the purpose of the Act or Rules.

With the attainment of provincial autonomy, it should be only natural to expect that such notices should be advertised in newspapers published in the town or in the province. The provision in the rule "or in such newspapers as the Local Government may approve" covers the second alternative.

I may add here that the Bill, if passed into law, will necessitate an amendment of Rule 13, clause 3, to the following effect:—

In Rule 13, clause 3, omit "circulated" after the words "in at least three successive issues of same newspapers published."

CALCUTTA, the 8th November 1929.

A. MAJID, Registrar, Calcutta.

The following is published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information :—

To His Excellency the Governor of Bengal.

In the matter of an election petition under Part VII of the Bengal Electoral Rules and other Rules and Regulations

and

In the matter of an election to the Bengal Legislative Council from the North Bakarganj Muhammadan Constituency

and

In the matter of Maulvi Rahim Bux Salem, of Bejoypur, police-station Doulatkhan, district Bakarganj, petitioner versus

- (1) Maulvi Muhammad Hussain, of Bhashanchar, police-station Mehendiganj, district Bakarganj, at present a pleader at Barisal,
- (2) Maulvi Hashemali Khan, pleader, Barisal,
- (3) Maulvi Fazlal Karim Chowdhury, of Ulania, police-station Mehendiganj, Bakarganj,
- (4) Maulvi Khorshed Alam Chowdhury, of Ulania, police-station Mehendiganj, Bakarganj,
- (5) Maulvi Syed Azizur Rahman, of Batamara, police-station Barhanaddi, Bhola,
- (6) Mr. Hutchins, Returning Officer, Bakarganj, respondents.

The humble petition of Maulvi Rahim Bux Salem aforesaid,

Most respectfully sheweth :—

1. That your petitioner was a duly nominated candidate at the last general election for the Bengal Legislative Council from the Bakarganj (North) Muhammadan Constituency and the aforesaid respondents Nos. (1), (2), (3), (4) and (5) were also candidates for the said election. The respondents Nos. (2-5) withdrew their candidature subsequently. Respondent No. (6) was the Returning Officer.

2. That the result of the polling which took place on the 1st and 5th June 1929 was as follows :—

	Votes.
(i) Maulvi Muhammad Hussain ..	2,364
(ii) Maulvi Rahim Bux Salem ..	2,307
Rejected	38
Missing	1

3. That the respondent No. (1) was declared as duly elected.

4. That your petitioner submitted his return of election expenses on the 20th July 1929.

5. That your petitioner begs to submit that the said election of the respondent No. (1) is illegal, void and liable to be set aside on the following grounds :—

GROUND.

(i) That Batamara Hat and Safipur Mian Bari were declared and published to be two of the polling stations for the 5th June 1929, but no polling was held at either of these two stations, there being no such place as Batamara Hat at all.

(ii) That, at the instance of the respondent No. (1) and his agents and men, the elections that were to take place at Batamara Hat and Safipur Mian Bari were actually held at Ramchar Hat, in a different mauza, and at the Safipur Board School, far away from Safipur Mian Bari.

(iii) That in consequence of the sudden shifting of the polling centres without any previous notice the voters, who would have voted for your petitioner, were seriously misled and could not record their votes at all and your petitioner lost about 150 votes on this account.

(iv) That the Presiding Officer or the Polling Officers had no authority to change the place of voting which were already notified as polling centres and they had no authority to select a new place as polling station.

(v) That no secrecy in the matter of recording votes was observed at either of these two stations—the votes being recorded in one case in an open ground—without any roof or enclosure in a part of the Ramchar Hat, on the hat day, and in other case in the open verandah of the Safipur Board School. The votes recorded at these two places ought to have been rejected.

(vi) That the Presiding Officer at Udaypur polling station refused to record the votes of more than 40 voters on mere technical defects in pronunciation of their names or in omitting the words as "Howladar", "Munshi" "Miji," etc., which are generally added to the names in writing but are generally omitted when one speaks of his own name. About 40 votes that would have been recorded in favour of your petitioner were thus refused to the serious prejudice of your petitioner. The names of voters whose votes were thus rejected were marked with "R" by the Presiding Officer.

(vii) That the respondent No. (1) and his agents and men engaged on his behalf promised, offered and distributed illegal gratifications and bribes and rewards and donations in many places to seriously influence the voters in favour of respondent No. (1) and against your petitioner and persuaded many voters to refrain from voting for your petitioner.

(viii) That the respondent No. (1) and his agents and men treated the voters with food, sarbat, drink, pan, cigarettes and sweetmeats in many places.

(ix) That the respondent No. (1) and his agents and men on his behalf paid boat hires, motor hires for the conveyance of the voters to and from the polling station.

(x) That the return of election expenses filed by the respondent No. (1) is not correct and is full of falsifications. He has not shown the actual receipts and expenditure incurred by him or his agents and men.

(xi) That your petitioner states that the respondent No. (1) by himself or by his agents and other persons acting on his behalf and with his knowledge or connivance was guilty of bribery, treating undue influence, personation, publication of false statements, illegal hiring and use of motor cars and boats, illegal payment and other corrupt and illegal practices in contravention of the electoral laws, rules and regulations before, during and after the said election.

(xii) That the nomination paper of the respondent No. (1) should have been rejected by the Returning Officer, respondent No. (6), as in the electoral roll his father's name did not appear and it could not be ascertained if he was the real person whose names appeared in the electoral roll as Mahammad Hussain.

(xiii) That the respondent or his agents and men appointed on his behalf printed and published pamphlets and posters and hand bills without the name and address of the printer and publisher thereof, the pamphlets containing indirect insinuation against your petitioner and thereby seriously prejudicing your petitioner's election.

(xiv) That your petitioner craves leave to submit further instances, if he is so advised, of corrupt practices which may come to his knowledge in future.

6. That your petitioner begs to deposit the sum of Rs. 1,000 as security for the costs of the petition under rule 35 of the Bengal Electoral Rules. The chalan showing the deposit is enclosed herewith.

7. That your petitioner accordingly prays that Your Excellency may be graciously pleased to appoint Commissioners for the trial of this petition and after such inquiry as may be necessary and on the report of the said Commissioners, Your Excellency may be pleased :—

- (i) to set aside the aforesaid election,
- (ii) to disqualify the said respondent No. (1) under the electoral rules for being guilty of corrupt practices,
- (iii) to declare your petitioner as duly elected,
- (iv) to reject the votes recorded at Ramchar Hat and Safipur Board School and recount the votes, and
- (v) to allow your petitioner the costs of and incidental to this petition, or
- (vi) to pass such other or further orders as to Your Excellency may seem fit and proper.

And your petitioner as in duty bound shall ever pray.

VERIFICATION.

I, Maulvi Rahim Bux Salem, petitioner abovenamed, say that the contents of the above paragraphs are true to information received which I believe to be true and I sign this verification at Barisal this 2nd day of August 1929.

The petitioner herein relies on the following among other corrupt practices committed by the respondent No. (1) or his agents and other persons acting on his behalf or with his knowledge and connivance :—

(b) At first a promise to pay a sum of money to the Managers of the School at Lalmoan and failing to pay in cash, the giving of a hand note on the day of election.

(c) A promise of a donation to the Managers of the Patarhat H. E. School and the Chirpata Madrassa given by the respondent No. (1) and his agents and men.

(f) Paying hires of motor cars for the voters at Baranaddi, Joy nagar, Alinagar, Bhola and Debirchar.

(g) Payment of a donation to the Larua Board School, Paschim Larua L. P. Muktab, Uttar Sultani Muktab, Asha Muktab and Menania Junior Madrassa.

(h) Payment of boat hire for the voters at Babaganj, Agarpur, Muladi and Ramchar Hat.

(i) Printing, publishing and circulating pamphlets and posters (enclosed herewith) without the name and address of the printers and publishers therefor.

(j) Treating voters with food, drink, sarbat, sweetmeats, pan, cigarettes at Muladi, Safipur, Ramchar, Larua and Kanaiganj.

(k) That the respondent No. (1) has not shown the amounts drawn by him through his agents and men from the Barisal Rindan Samiti for the election expenses, e.g., Rs. 500 on the 9th May 1929 taken by his agent Makbul and Rs. 1,000 on the 15th May 1929 taken by his brother Abdul Hamid.

(l) That the respondent No. (1) has not shown the remittances made by him by postal money order from Barisal to Maulvi Akimuddin, pleader at Bhola.

(m) That the respondent No. (1) has not shown the expenses incurred by his agents and men—(1) Kuti Mian Chowdhury at Debirchar and Gazaria centres, (2) Elahi Bux Chowdhury at Kulma and (3) Akimuddin at Hat Sashiganj.

(n) That the respondent No. (1) has not shown the expenses incurred by his supervising agents, namely, (1) Abdul Wahab Khan, pleader, (2) Munshi Azizuddin, pleader, (3) Mafazzal Haque, pleader of Barisal, and (4) Tofel Ahammed Chowdhury, Abdul Rahim Chowdhury and Chaud Ahmed Mian of Gangapur.

The humble petition of the aforesaid petitioner,

Most respectfully sheweth :—

1. That as submitted in paragraph 14 of the election petition your petitioner begs to cite a fresh instance of a serious irregularity affecting the result of the election below.

2. That the polling centre of Gangapur Junior Madrassa was shifted about a mile off to Gangapur English School and many voters who would have voted for your petitioner could not record their votes at all owing to this change without notice.

And your petitioner as in duty bound shall over pray.

I, Maulvi Rahim Bux Saleem, petitioner abovenamed, say that the contents of the above paragraph are true to information received which I believe to be true and I sign this verification at Barisal this 4th day of November 1929.

The Bengal Food Adulteration (Amendment) Bill, 1929.

(Clause 5.)

Amendment of section 21.

5. In the table in section 21 of the said Act,—

(1) to the entry relating to sub-section (1) of section 6 the following shall be added in the second column, namely :—

“ or is not labelled or marked in the prescribed manner ”

(2) after the entry relating to sub-section (2) of section 6, the following shall be inserted, namely : —

“ Section 6, sub-section (2a). ”	Sale, etc., of food containing any article which is not of the prescribed quality.	Two hundred rupees.	One thousand rupees or imprisonment for three months or both ;”
----------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------

(3) the entry relating to section 8 shall be omitted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In the United Kingdom the sale or exposure for sale of condensed milk is prohibited unless the receptacle containing the milk bears a label to show to what extent dilution is necessary and whether the milk when so diluted will contain sufficient butter fat to be fit for babies. A great deal of condensed milk of various brands is imported into this country ; some kinds are full of cream and some are skimmed. The label generally contains a description, but it is rarely prominent. Illiterate purchasers can seldom distinguish between the different brands ; and as the skimmed variety is injurious to bottle-fed infants brought up on it, legislation is necessary to control the sale of such milk. Section 6 of the Bengal Food Adulteration Act, 1919 (Bengal Act VI of 1919) which deals with constituents of food in the mufassal, excludes condensed, sterilized and desiccated milk from its operation. It is therefore proposed to amend section 6 of the said Act so as to bring condensed, sterilized, and desiccated milk within its purview and to forbid the sale or exposure for sale of such milk if it contains a less proportion of non-fatty solids and of fat than such as may be prescribed by the Local Government. Power has also been taken to make rules specifying the manner in which each receptacle containing condensed, sterilized, or desiccated milk is to be labelled and marked.

It has been held that section 6 of the Bengal Food Adulteration Act, 1919, does not apply to the sale of sweetmeats containing adulterated ingredients, the sale of which by themselves would be punishable under that section. It is therefore also proposed to amend section 6 of the Act, so as to bring within its purview the sale of sweetmeats or other articles containing such adulterated ingredients.

THE BENGAL MUNICIPAL (AMENDMENT) BILL 1929.

ABILL

further to amend the provisions of section 85 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the provisions of section 85 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, so as to authorise the levying of an increased rate on the annual value of holdings in the Kurseong Municipality.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Municipal (Amendment) Act, 1929.

Amendment of section
85 of Bengal
Act III
of 1884.

2. In the first proviso to clause (b) of section 85 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, after the word "Dacca" the word "Kurseong" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The income of the Kurseong Municipality from sources other than water-rate and latrine fees is insufficient to cover the municipal expenditure on general purposes. Consequently the municipal commissioners have had to borrow from the Water Fund and the Latrine Fund in order to find money for outlay on general administration. As this procedure is quite irregular it is necessary to increase the income of the municipality from sources not earmarked for expenditure on particular objects. It is accordingly proposed to empower the municipal commissioners to assess the rate on holdings at 10 per cent. of the annual value as in Howrah, Darjeeling and Dacca, instead of the normal maximum of 7½ per cent. It is at the same time proposed to reduce the water-rate from 7 and 3½ per cent. to 5 and 2½ per cent.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

It is proposed to amend the Bengal Food Adulteration Act, 1919, so as to bring under regulation condensed sterilised and desiccated milk which at present is excluded from the provisions of section 5 of the Act. In order to make the practice in Calcutta and the mufassal uniform it is desirable that the corresponding provisions of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923, viz., section 407 should also be amended. The present Bill provides for this. Opportunity has been taken to make a further amendment desired by the Corporation forbidding the use in butter of any preservative but salt.

2. Opportunity has also been taken to make the following amendments in the Act. These are all in the nature of drafting amendments and as such are non-controversial:—

- (a) sub-section (f) with the proviso, of section 45 of the Act, which is meaningless, has been expunged and a new sub-section has been inserted to make the intention clear; consequential amendments have been made in section 49 and the heading to Schedule III;
- (b) the mistake whereby section 26 instead of section 11 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, is mentioned in proviso (i) to section 475 has been corrected;
- (c) the omission of the word “Ditto” from column 3 against entry No. 56 in Schedule VI of the Act has been rectified;
- (d) the clerical mistake in the heading of Schedule XVIII has been corrected.

Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 26th September, 1929 :—

L. A. BILL NO. 24 OF 1929.

A Bill to finally recognize and place beyond doubt the validation of inter-marriage of Arya Samajists.

WHEREAS it is expedient to finally recognize and place beyond doubt the validation of inter-marriage of Arya Samajists; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Arya Marriage Validation Act, 1929.

(2) It shall apply to the whole of British India and shall apply to all cases that may come up for decision after the passing of the Act whether the marriage in question has taken place before or after the passing of this Act.

Definition.

2. For the purpose of this Act "Arya Samajist" shall mean a person who—

- (a) is a member of any Arya Samaj; or
- (b) is a member of the family of, or a relative dependent on, or a person under the guardianship of, any person mentioned in clause (a);
- (c) within five years of the passing of this Act or within one year of his marriage (whichever period expires last) executes a written document expressing himself to be an Arya Samajist or in terms equivalent thereto; and includes the members of the family of, relatives dependent on, and persons under the guardianship of, such a person.

Explanation.—Where the document mentioned in clause (c) is registered under the Indian Registration Act, 1908, it shall be conclusive and no evidence shall be admissible to prove that any person mentioned in clause (c) is not an Arya Samajist. XVI of 1908.

Validation of inter-marriage of Arya Samajists.

3. No marriage of an Arya Samajist shall be invalid by reason of the couple having belonged to different castes or sub-castes of Hindus or to different religions, any law or usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

As the Arya Samajists who form quite an appreciable number of the Indian population conscientiously believe that the present caste system is not in accordance with their scriptures, the Vedas, and as according to the law as administered at present marriages among couples belonging to different castes or sub-castes are considered invalid and there is a fear of the issue of such marriages being declared illegitimate and as quite a large number of such marriages have taken place and more would have taken place had there been no such obstacles, it is necessary to have a law which would give relief to the Arya Samajists. Hence the above short law is proposed.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 26th September, 1929:—

L. A. BILL No. 37 OF 1929.

A Bill further to amend the Special Marriage Act, 1872.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Special Marriage Act, 1872; It is hereby enacted as follows:— III of 1872.

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Special Marriage (Amendment) Act, 192 .

Amendment of preamble to Act III of 1872. 2. In the preamble to the Special Marriage Act, 1872 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act),— III of 1872.

(i) after the words "a form of" the word "civil" shall be inserted;

(ii) after the words "for persons" the words "domiciled in British India" shall be inserted; and

(iii) the words "who do not profess the Christian, Jewish, Hindu, Muhammadan, Parsi, Buddhist, Sikh or Jaina religion" shall be omitted.

Amendment of section 2, Act III of 1872. 3. In section 2 of the said Act,—

(i) the words "neither of whom professes the Christian or the Jewish, or the Hindu or the Muhammadan, or the Parsi or the Buddhist, or the Sikh or the Jaina religion" shall be omitted; and

(ii) after the words "between persons" the words "domiciled in British India" shall be inserted.

Amendment of clause 2, Second Schedule to Act III of 1872. 4. In the Second Schedule to the said Act, for clause 2 in the Declarations to be made by the bridegroom and the bride, respectively, the followings shall be substituted, namely:—"I am domiciled in British India".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The laws of all civilised countries provide for the contract of civil marriage by persons who may so desire. The disability to contract such marriages in India is merely territorial and there is no reason why a similar law should not be enacted for this country. The enactment, if passed, would be merely optional and leaves intact the existing personal laws which control the performance of marriages.

The reasons which have induced me to draft this Bill are as follows:—

Sir Henry Maine as Law Member of the Governor General's Council had introduced a Civil Marriage Bill; but, as the Government were then immediately concerned with an enactment to prescribe a civil form of marriage applicable only to Brahmins by whom they were moved for the enactment of a secular law to enable them to contract marriages, its provisions were so limited in the Bill which became Act III of 1872.

In 1909, the late Mr. Bhupendra Nath Basu and later on Dr. H. S. Gour had also introduced a similar Bill, but its provisions were eventually transformed into those of Act XXX of 1923.

The Baroda State have recently introduced a Civil Marriage Bill; while the Laws of other Indian States are understood to provide for the performance of such marriages. The advantages of the measure, if enacted, are obvious. The Bill would enable persons subject to polygamous marriage laws to contract monogamous marriages and removed the inequality in the matter of divorce. It would elevate the status of women. These benefits have already been assured to the Hindus, Buddhists, Sikhs and Jains by Act XXX of 1923, and there is no reason why the benefit that that Act confers upon the communities named should not be extended to other communities who might as regards succession be equally brought under the law enacted in the Indian Succession Act. A provision to this effect has not been inserted in the Bill, but it can be added at a later stage if public opinion favours it. The absence of a civil marriage law lends itself to perjury and artificial conversions which it is the policy of the State to prevent. It was so observed by Sir Henry Maine who advocated the establishment of a non-sectarian marriage law in order to prevent the abuse resulting from such conversions (Proceedings Imperial Council, dated 27th November, 1868, pp. 498, 499).

To sum up then the advantages of such marriages are as follows:—

1. Such marriages are recognised and provided for by the laws of all civilised countries, and it is possible to contract such marriages outside the territorial limits of India. The disability is, therefore, purely territorial, and patriotic Indians are naturally anxious to remove all such disabilities from their way.

2. The Bill is monogamous in its policy and would result in introducing monogamy where polygamous marriages alone are at present possible.

3. It would prevent artificial conversions resulting from the exigency of marriages.

4. It would give a wider field for selection and thus ensure a happier domestic life.

5. It would introduce a greater sincerity in marriages by dispensing with the subscription of a declaration which many desiring to marry under the existing Act have to subscribe to not without considerable mental reserve.

6. It would tend to the unification of the Indian races without at the same time interfering with their personal religion.

7. It would give the wife a more assured position and entitle her to exercise her right of divorce which may not be possible if married under her personal law.

8. And being merely optional it trenches upon no one's rights, but merely prescribes a form to those who, while desiring to escape from the thralldom of their religious ritual, do not wish to renounce it.

It is believed that, with the growing strength of the national sentiment, such a Bill has become a public desideratum, and it has therefore been decided to re-introduce it in the Central Legislature.

REPORT.

With reference to notification No. 16416A., of the Government of Bengal, dated the 31st August 1929, we have the honour to submit the following report in respect of the petition made by Bahu Gangadhar Haldar with regard to the election of Mr. P. Banerji by the 24-Parganas Rural South (Non-Muhammadan) constituency as a member of the Bengal Legislative Council.

On 18th September 1929 Mr. Garlick, the then President of the Commission, called upon the petitioner to deposit further security of Rs. 2,000 and on 26th September 1929 on a prayer by the petitioner for time to give security November 4th was fixed as the date for doing so, and it was further ordered that the additional security must be given before issues were framed. It should be mentioned that before making this order the President enquired of the petitioner how long he expected the enquiry to last and the petitioner's advocate replied in a letter, dated 7th September 1929, estimating that it would take about ten days.

On November 4th the Commission sat for the first time and the petitioner raised objections to this order. Although in our opinion there were ample reasons on the record for the President's order we postponed consideration of this until the issues were framed, when we should be in a better position to estimate the probable duration of the enquiry.

On November 7th the issues were framed and the petitioner was directed to execute a bond for Rs. 2,000 with sureties as security for further costs in modification of Mr. Garlick's order to deposit the amount. We pointed out in making this order that from the issues framed it was evident that there would be a protracted hearing.

November 14th was the date fixed for executing this bond and for examination of witnesses.

On November 14th the petitioner prayed for stay of the proceedings on the ground that he had applied to His Excellency the Governor for changing the personnel of the Commission. We rejected this petition and called upon the petitioner to execute a bond as ordered. On this he put in a further petition and stating that he could not submit to the humiliation of furnishing security and was unwilling to do so, and prayed that the order might be revoked. This prayer also we rejected.

The petitioner having refused to comply with our order, in our humble opinion the petition ought to be dismissed, as it was in the case of Narayan Laxman versus Atmaram Mahadeo Atavne, Vol. 111, Madras Election Petitions, page 173. We therefore recommend that the petition be dismissed with costs, and that the petitioner should pay to respondent No. 1 Rs. 200 towards the costs of this petition.

ADDENDA AND CORRIGENDA.

No. 5271F.—23rd November 1929.—The following corrections have been authorised and are published for information:—

The Bengal Financial Rules, 1st Edition.

Pages 135-36.—T.O. 16, S.R. 35, clause (f).—Substitute the following for this rule and all notes except Note I under the rule:—

10A. The following transactions of the Provincial Government will be taken to the nearest anna, six pies and over being treated as one whole anna and amounts less than six pies being omitted:—

(1) Payments to or recoveries from Government servants and pensioners, except as specified below:—

(a) In the case of emoluments fixed by statute, the payment may be to the next higher anna.

(b) In the case of pies occurring in life insurance premia under the Postal Life Insurance scheme, and in subscriptions to uncovenanted pension funds, such as the Bengal and Madras Service Family Pension Fund, the Bombay and the Bengal Uncovenanted Family Pension Funds, which are deducted from pay bills, the total sum for twelve months is bound to be an even sum of annas, and every subscriber should be asked to pay to the nearest anna eleven months in the year, the necessary adjustment being made in the last month; thus, a man who has to pay Rs. 3-5-7 per month may pay Rs. 3-6-0 per month for eleven months and Rs. 3-1-0 in the twelfth month. In the case of the General Provident Fund and the Indian Civil Service Pension Fund deductions will, however, be made in whole rupees.

(c) As regards recoveries of amounts under objection, when all amounts of bills are calculated in annas, there cannot be any pies in objection books, except in the case of recoveries of advances in instalments. These instalments need not be exactly equal and the recoveries should be so fixed as to be always in annas, the last instalment being adjusted as necessary; thus a motor car advance of Rs. 5,000 to be repaid in 36 instalments should be recovered as follows:—35 instalments of Rs. 138-14-0 and a last instalment of the balance Rs. 139-6-0.

(2) Accounts rendered by one Government or Department to another.—

NOTE.—Pies need not be eliminated in exchange accounts between one Government or Department and another if it is not possible to remove them from the original transactions.

(3) Amounts converted into Indian currency from sterling. The same rule should be applied ordinarily to receipts on account of remittance transfer receipts, deposits, and to all receipts other than receipts of revenue which are fixed by or under any law.

Page 184—F. R. Appendix 3, rule 12, II, clause (g).—Substitute the following for the last sentence:—

“See the note under article 151, Account Code.”

Page 68—Rule 218.—Under clause (a) of this rule insert the following as a note:—

NOTE.—As an exception to this rule, the details need not be reproduced in a subsequent bill if the details of all the items of that bill are contained in a single previous bill.

Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 26th September, 1929:—

L. A. Bill No. 35 of 1929.

A Bill to amend the Mussalman Wakf Validating Act, 1913.

WHEREAS doubts have arisen regarding the applicability of the Mussalman Wakf Validating Act, 1913, to wakfs created before its VI of 1913, enactment;

AND whereas it is expedient to resolve such doubts;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Mussalman Wakf Validating (Amendment) Act, 1929.

Amendment of section 1, Act VI of 1913.

2. In sub-section (2) of section 1 of the Mussalman Wakf Validating Act, 1913, after the words "It extends to the whole of British India" the following words shall be added, namely:—

"and shall apply to all wakfs whenever executed."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Muhammadian law permits a perpetual bequest in the form of a Wakf-al-aulad, that is a bequest for the benefit of the testator's descendants. As such, it contravenes the law against perpetuities as enacted in section 14 of the Transfer of Property Act, and section 114 of the Indian Succession Act. A doubt was cast on this doctrine by the Privy Council in several cases in which their Lordships held such bequests illegal as obnoxious to the rule against perpetuities (Abdul Fata v. Rasamaya 22 C. 619 P.C.; Abdul Fagur v. Nizamuddin 17 B. I. P. C.; Mujib-u-nissa v. Abdul Rahim 23 A. 233 P.C.; Muhammad Munawar Ali v. Razia Bibi 27 A. 320 P. C.). Mr. Jinnah introduced a Bill which became Act VI of 1913 restoring the validity of such Wakfs.

But in several cases since decided this Act is held to be inapplicable to wakfs created before its enactment (Khajeh Soelhma v.

Salimullah 49 C. 820 P. C.; Rahimunnissa v. Shaik Manik Jan 19 C. W. N. 76; Mahomed Bukht v. Dewan Ajman Reja 43 C. 158; Amir Bibi v. Azizabibi 39 B. 563).

As Act VI of 1913 was merely declaratory of the validity of such wakfs, it was understood that it would apply equally to all wakfs whether created before or since that enactment. But as the Courts have held otherwise, this Bill is framed to give that Act retrospective operation.

It is apprehended that the Mussalman Wakfs Validating Act (VI of 1913) was not intended to introduce a change in the old law being enacted, to restore the old rule. This Bill will, if passed, carry out its intention by resolving a doubt resulting from recent cases.

CALCUTTA, THE 26TH OCTOBER
1929.

RESOLUTION—No. 13182 L.R.

Read—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the Land Revenue Administration of the Presidency for the year 1928-29.

The office of the Member of the Board of Revenue was held by Mr. J. N. Gupta, M.B.E., C.I.E., from the beginning of the year until 11th December 1928, when he was succeeded by Mr. F. A. Sachse, who held charge of the office till 1st January 1929. Mr. A. W. Cook, C.I.E., joined on 2nd January 1929, and remained in charge during the rest of the year.

2. During the year under review, there was no widespread natural calamity, but a breach of a Public Works Department embankment at Dokanda in the district of Midnapore and heavy erosion by the river Padma in the southern part of the district of Dacca caused hardship to the people concerned. The weather conditions were generally favourable and the crops were excellent, but, as they were not harvested until the autumn, the effect of the failure of crops in 1927-28 was felt in some districts in the early part of the year. The relief measures started in the latter part of the year 1927-28 to combat scarcity in the districts of Burdwan, Birbhum, Bankura, Nadia, Murshidabad, Khulna, Malda and Dinajpur were continued until November 1928. In the above-mentioned districts land improvement and agriculturists' loans were distributed liberally, the total sum advanced amounting to Rs. 15,36,720.

The prevailing high rates of wages of skilled and unskilled labourers were maintained, but there was little improvement in the condition of the landless middle class who depend on fixed incomes. Attempts are being made in Faridpur and Bakarganj to encourage youths of the bhadralok class to take to agriculture.

The public health in the Presidency was on the whole good. There was no serious outbreak of epidemic disease, and malaria, kala-azar, cholera and small-pox were less prevalent. The greater attention paid by the local authorities (district boards, municipalities and union boards) to preventive measures is partly responsible for this improvement.

3. The depression in the coal industry in the Burdwan Division continued. The jute and cotton mills in Hooghly, Howrah and the 24-Parganas were in a prosperous condition and engineering works in the Presidency did well. As a result of demands for increased wages, strikes took place in some workshops in Howrah district. The strike of the East Indian Railway workshop employees at Lillooah continued till the end of June. Industrial and Agricultural Exhibitions were held in the districts of the 24-Parganas, Bakarganj and Khulna and were greatly appreciated by the general public. Tea cultivation in the districts of Chittagong and Jalpaiguri was extended during the year. The tea industry in the districts of Darjeeling and Jalpaiguri was however rather less prosperous than in the preceding year.

The number of co-operative societies continued to increase and they did useful work in lowering the rate of interest charged by money-lenders.

4. There was a slight fall (Rs. 2,279) in the demand of land revenue in the permanently-settled estates. The temporarily-settled estates and estates under direct management showed an increased demand of Rs. 3,79,310, the biggest increase being in the district of Chittagong, where revisional settlement operations were nearing completion. The percentage of total collections on total demand shows a decreasing tendency from 94.64 in 1926-27 to 92.80 in the year under review, while arrear balances tend to increase. The sale law was administered with moderation, and of the total number of defaults only 6.48 per cent. actually came to sale.

5. The percentage of cost of management of Government estates on the current demand was 10·0. A sum of Rs. 2,34,045, being 3·9 per cent. of the current demand, was spent on agricultural, sanitary and miscellaneous improvements. It is satisfactory to note that in Government estates the number of schools and the pupils attending them are on the increase from year to year.

6. The colonisation scheme of twenty-two estates in the Bakarganj-Sundarbans, which was initiated about twenty-two years ago, is expected to be completed within another year, and the programme of colonisation in the 24-Parganas-Sundarbans is also being steadily carried on. The total expenditure incurred by Government on reclamation in the 24-Parganas and Bakarganj-Sundarbans and the total income derived from these areas up to the end of the year under report, were as below :—

	—Total expenditure. Rs.	Total receipts. Rs.
Bakarganj-Sundarbans ..	89,688	21,11,063
24-Parganas-Sundarbans ..	85,523	4,27,054

Malaria, for which the Sundarbans was notorious, has almost disappeared as a result of the reclamation work undertaken. While the number of schools and pupils in the Bakarganj-Sundarbans showed a steady increase; there was no noticeable progress in education amongst the tenants in the colonised areas in the 24-Parganas.

7. Though instances of actual rupture between landlords and tenants which came to light during the year were few, relations were not as cordial and harmonious as they might have been. The zemindars showed very little interest in the improvement of the agricultural or economic condition of their tenants.

8. The operation of section 180A of the Bengal Tenancy Act for the commutation of utbandi rates has proved a blessing to both tenants and landlords.

9. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to the Board of Revenue for the efficient administration of the departments in its charge.

By order of the Governor in Council,

H. J. TWYNAM,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Financial results.

3. The receipts which in 1925-26, the last year of the preceding triennium, were Rs. 3,67,18,643 fell to Rs. 3,40,33,282 in 1926-27 and to Rs. 3,55,63,916 in 1927-28. During the last year of the period under review the receipts, as reported by the Accountant-General, Bengal, plus Rs. 5,91,248 paid to the Calcutta Improvement Trust being the collection of the increased stamp duty leviable under section 82 of the Calcutta Improvement Trust Act, 1911, and Rs. 11,30,000, being the provincial share of the sale-proceeds of unified stamps credited to non-postal revenues, amounted to Rs. 3,64,48,439, an increase of Rs. 8,84,523 or 2·5 per cent. as compared with receipts in 1927-28 and of Rs. 24,15,157, or 7 per cent. over those of 1926-27. The increase occurred both under judicial and non-judicial stamps.

* * * * *

A.—Judicial stamps.

5. The sale-proceeds of court-fee stamps (excluding stamps for copies) rose steadily during the past three years. The receipts during 1928-29 were Rs. 2,16,81,520 against Rs. 2,09,80,944 in 1927-28 and Rs. 1,99,06,495 in 1926-27. Compared with 1927-28 there was an increase in 1928-29 of Rs. 7,00,576 which was shared by all the divisions. The largest increase Rs. 2,67,041 was contributed by the Dacca Division owing, it is said, to increase in litigation.

The receipts from the sale of stamps for copies also rose from Rs. 8,75,642 in 1926-27 to Rs. 9,56,564 in 1927-28 and to Rs. 9,71,661 in 1928-29.

The receipts from the sale of plain paper used with court-fee labels rose from Rs. 3,47,362 in 1926-27 to Rs. 3,50,673 in 1927-28 and to Rs. 3,48,644 in 1928-29.

B.—Non-Judicial stamps.

6. The revenue derived from the sale of non-judicial stamps during 1928-29 amounted to Rs. 1,34,40,746 and showed an increase of Rs. 1,80,262, or 1·4 per cent. as compared with 1927-28 and of Rs. 5,36,210, or 4·2 per cent. as compared with that of the first year of the triennium. The increase occurred mainly under the heads of "Impressed Stamps" and "Miscellaneous Receipts."

7. Impressed stamps.—The receipts from the sale of impressed stamps (the most important item among non-judicial stamps) showed a progressive increase during the past three years. The revenue which amounted to Rs. 68,10,283 in 1926-27 rose to Rs. 71,34,476 in 1927-28 and to Rs. 74,64,231 in 1928-29. The growth in revenue was shared by all the divisions except the Presidency and the Burdwan. The increases in the districts of Mymensingh, Tippera and Rangpur are noticeable being 16·7, 14·4, 9·6 per cent., respectively, in 1928-29 over the receipts of 1927-28 and are due to the registration of a larger number of documents.

8. Hundi or inland bills of exchange.—The revenue derived from the sale of hundi or bill-of-exchange stamps rose from Rs. 1,44,683 in 1926-27 to Rs. 1,50,008 in 1927-28, but in 1928-29 fell to Rs. 1,36,847. The decrease is due to the fluctuation of trade and to the opening of banks and loan offices.

9. Impressed labels or special adhesive stamps.—The receipts from the sale of these stamps showed a progressive increase during the last three years. The receipts which amounted to Rs. 26,34,198 in 1926-27 rose to Rs. 28,52,991 in 1927-28 and to Rs. 28,97,137 in 1928-29. The sale of these stamps is mainly confined to Calcutta which contributed 99·9 per cent. of the total revenue from this source.

10. Foreign bill stamps.—The receipts from these stamps, which are sold mainly in Calcutta, amounted to Rs. 3,65,818 in 1928-29 against Rs. 3,77,668 in 1927-28 and Rs. 3,72,444 in 1926-27. The decrease was probably due to the comparative depression of trade.

11. Share transfer stamps.—The sale of these stamps, which are used for payment of stamp duty on transfer of shares of public limited companies, is practically confined to Calcutta. The revenue rose from Rs. 6,86,182 in 1926-27 to Rs. 8,17,215 in 1927-28, but fell to Rs. 6,38,310 in the last year of the triennium. The noticeable increase of Rs. 1,31,033 in 1927-28 is due to better trade conditions prevailing in Calcutta during the year and to increased speculation.

12. Stamps for legal practitioners' licenses.—The receipts from the sale of these stamps rose from Rs. 2,21,839 in 1926-27 to Rs. 2,46,618 in 1927-28, but fell to Rs. 2,38,312 in the last year of the triennium.

13. Notarial stamps.—These stamps were sold only in Calcutta and Chittagong during the triennium. The sale of last year amounted to Rs. 7,112 in comparison with Rs. 9,652 and Rs. 9,892 in the two previous years.

14. Forms for agreements and contracts chargeable with two-anna coloured impressions.—The revenue from this source, which is confined to Calcutta only, rose from Rs. 8,660 in 1926-27 to Rs. 8,668 in 1927-28 and to Rs. 9,243 in 1928-29.

15. Forms for cheques and receipts.—The sale of these forms, which are stamped with one-anna coloured impressions, brought in Rs. 3,08,700 in 1926-27, but the receipts fell to Rs. 73,037 and Rs. 53,213 during 1927-28 and 1928-29 respectively. The abolition of stamp duty on cheques, with effect from the 1st July 1927, was responsible for the large decline in the receipts of the last two years.

16. Miscellaneous receipts.—The receipts under this head were mainly derived from the duty and penalty realised under sections 32, 35, 37, 40 and 41 of the Stamp Act, 1899. The income from these sources fell from Rs. 5,77,655 in the first year of the triennium to Rs. 4,60,151 in 1927-28, which again rose to Rs. 5,00,523 in 1928-29. The bulk of the revenue under this head is contributed by Calcutta.

17. Arrangements for the sale of stamps.—* * * * *
 * * * * * The total number of vendors engaged in the sale of judicial and non-judicial stamps during the year 1928-29 was 5,665 against 5,539 and 5,377 in the previous two years. The expenditure on discount allowed to stamp vendors during 1928-29 was Rs. 4,75,374 which exceeded that of the two previous years by Rs. 11,591 and Rs. 31,383, respectively. The increase was due to the increased sale of stamps both judicial and non-judicial. The average discount per vendor during the triennium under report was Rs. 83 against Rs. 84 in the preceding period.

18. Punitive action of the Courts and Revenue officers.—* * *

* * * * * The total number of cases dealt with by the Civil Courts increased from 1,371 in 1926-27 to 1,443 in 1927-28 and to 1,794 in the last year of the triennium. The duty and penalty realised by the Civil Courts increased also from Rs. 12,385 in 1926-27 to Rs. 13,870 in 1927-28 and to Rs. 14,003 in 1928-29. The number of cases dealt with by Revenue offices fell from 4,161 in 1926-27 to 3,845 in 1927-28 and to 4,026 in the last year of the triennium. The amount of duty and penalty realised in these cases amounted to Rs. 1,00,734 in 1928-29, as compared with Rs. 66,405 and Rs. 1,60,223 in 1927-28 and 1926-27 respectively.

19. * * * * * The number of cases instituted, as well as persons brought to trial, steadily increased during the triennium, viz., 145 cases involving 163 persons in 1926-27, 161 cases with 179 persons in 1927-28, and 180 cases with 202 persons in 1928-29. The fines imposed during the last year of the triennium amounted to Rs. 4,151 against Rs. 4,797 in 1927-28 and Rs. 3,138 in 1926-27. The amount paid in rewards in 1926-27 was Rs. 1,770 which rose to Rs. 2,999 in the following year and to Rs. 2,947 in the last year. No rewards were paid outside Calcutta.

20. Working of section 19 H added to the Court-fees Act, VII of 1870, by Act XI of 1899.— * * *

The number of cases pending at the beginning of the year 1928-29 was 788 against 634 and 431 in the previous two years respectively. The number of cases reported to the Collectors rose from 1,427 in 1926-27 to 1,557 in 1927-28 which, however, fell to 1,402 in the last year of the triennium. The number of cases in which enquiries were instituted during the year 1928-29 was 1,925 against 1,952, and 1,707 in 1927-28 and 1926-27 respectively. The number of enquiries completed during 1928-29 was 1,531, as compared with 1,423 and 1,202 in the previous two years. The amount of deficit court-fees realised fell from Rs. 2,88,623 in 1926-27 to Rs. 1,73,556 in 1927-28 and to Rs. 1,71,492 in the last year of the triennium. Of the cases reported during the year 1928-29, including those pending at the beginning of the year, 69·9 per cent. were completely enquired into, the corresponding percentages in the preceding two years being 64·9 and 64·7 respectively. The proportion borne by the deficit duty required to the amount originally realised was 12 in 1928-29 against 14·8 and 17·5 in the two preceding years respectively.

B. L. SUBARWAL,

Personal Assistant to the Chief Engineer to the Government of Bengal.

CALCUTTA, the 13th November 1929.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Monthly Weather and Crop Report of Bengal for October 1929.

I. Character of the season.—During the month under review, the rainfall was much above the normal almost throughout the Presidency, excepting only in Jessore, Khulna, Faridpur, Bakarganj and in the districts of the Chittagong Division, where it was below the average. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—Harvesting of autumn crops was over. Field operations for early spring crops commenced in places, but their progress was hampered to some extent by excessive rainfall in parts of North and West Bengal.

III. State of standing crops.—Good rainfall of the month materially improved the outturn of transplanted paddy and the outlook of other standing crops was reported to be generally promising.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn.—The prospects of winter paddy which were so long considered to be not very hopeful turned better as a result of good showers during the month.

A good outturn is expected for the province as a whole. The outturn of sugarcane is expected to be about 82 per cent. of the normal.

V. Damage to standing crops.—No damage to standing crops is reported from any part of the province, except in places of Bankura and Bogra, where the crops were somewhat affected by excessive rain.

VI. Condition of agricultural stock.—Condition of live-stock was generally fair. Stray cases of cattle-disease were, however, reported from six districts.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—No insufficiency of fodder was reported from any part of the province.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second fortnight of the month, the price of common rice of the cheapest quality rose in two districts, fell in twelve and remained stationary in the rest of the province. The price ranged from 5 seers per rupee at the 24-Parganas to 9 seers per rupee at the Chittagong Hill Tracts.

IX. Condition of agricultural population.—The condition of agricultural population continued to be generally fair.

Application from the Commissioners of the Faridpur Municipality for a loan of Rs. 40,000.

Financial position of the local body.
Receipt of Loan.					Repayment of Loan.		Revenue (details of the preceding three years).			Expenditure (details of the preceding three years).
					The period for which the loan is required.	The rate of interest at which it is proposed to borrow.	The number of instalments in which it is proposed that the loan should be taken.	The amount of each instalment.	The date proposed for receiving each.	(f)	(g)
										The number of instalments in which the loan is repayable and the date of payment thereof.	Amount of each instalment.

In addition to the details required on the reverse, clear information should be given below under the following heads:—

(a) If the ordinary surplus is insufficient to meet the charges of the proposed loan, the particular steps which the municipality has taken, or has agreed to take, in order to make good the deficiency.

(b) The reserve of taxation or other possible means of increase in the revenues of the municipality. The rates at which each of the taxes mentioned in column 12 on the reverse are levied, other than tax on persons, should be stated here.

(d) Any explanations in regard to receipts and expenditure to show the true financial position of the municipality when such position is otherwise than the ordinary surplus would indicate.

(a) The ordinary surplus is not quite sufficient to meet the charges of the proposed loan but the interest with the capital would be met from the water-rate.

(b) The municipality expects a substantial increase to its income by the imposition of water-rate and the Municipal Commissioners expect to introduce holding tax in place of personal tax if possible.

(c) A loan of Rs. 3,667 was taken from Government on the 5th February 1923 to meet the cost of constructing mothers' sheds for thirty years re-payable in thirty equal annual instalments of Rs. 295-8-2, and out of it six instalments have already been paid. The loan was sanctioned by Government of Bengal, Local Self-Government Department, Local Self-Government Branch, No. 2081.S.G., dated the 30th January 1923.

(d) From the informations supplied in paragraphs (a) and (b) above it is evident that there would be no difficulty for the repayment of loan with interest in future.

Every vessel on entering the channel and before passing the gate at either end or even when entering the channel from a side khal between the gates shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable; in case of any reasonable doubt arising, a vessel may be measured again by any person appointed by the District Board of Bakarganj on this behalf.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into two classes as below:—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the types of country boats, including saltees and hapors (fish cages), house boats, kosh boats, green boats, etc.

Class II.—To include steam boats, motor boats, fluts and barges and other square built vessels.

3. The maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purpose of Act V (B. C.) of 1864 and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

CLASS I.

A. The product of one quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches; the measurement of breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C. The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of $12\frac{1}{2}$ maunds, any remainder of less than $12\frac{1}{2}$ maunds being rejected. In the case of vessels exceeding 500 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D. Saltees.—The product of one quarter of the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the greatest depth measured from the top to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

CLASS II.

For vessel of class II the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class I shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class above 5,000 maunds measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 500 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 500 maunds. In the case of steamers and motor boats the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance for engine space.

For vessels of class II which are furnished with reliable way bills, the gross maundage of cargo shown by the way bills or in the case of steamers, the maundage obtained from multiplying the registered tonnage of the steamer by 27, may, at the option of the employer of the vessel or the steamer (as the case may be), be taken as the maundage on which tolls will be charged.

4. After the measurement the person in charge of the vessel shall be provided with a slip showing the maundage to be charged, which must be presented at the toll office where he will be provided with a ticket, after payment of toll, which will permit the vessel to pass the gate or proceed through the channel.

5. Every ticket shall have entered on it the name of the sarang, manjee or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage, the cargo, the amount of toll charged and the number of days for which the ticket remains current.

6. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll office before a vessel is permitted to proceed.

7. The ticket must be kept on board the vessel and in possession of the person in charge of the vessel and must be produced for inspection when demanded by the person authorised to collect tolls, or by any officer to whom such person is subordinate. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage as provided in rules 3 and 12 and shall require payment of toll, and unless and until the toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel shall be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act.

8. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the collector of tolls on payment of a fee equal to one quarter of the total tollage, subject to a minimum fee of one anna per ticket.

9. All vessels, whether the property of Government, District Board, other local bodies or of private persons, are liable for toll except those specially exempted under these rules or by a resolution passed by the District Board of Bakarganj from time to time.

10. The canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on seven days' notice of the intention so to close it being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency the canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

11. No rafts exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth shall be permitted to enter the canals.

12. The rates of toll shall be as follows:—

- | | |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|
| (1) On all vessels empty or laden, per hundred maunds | Four annas. |
| (2) On all vessels empty or laden, for $12\frac{1}{2}$ maunds or less | One-half anna. |
| (3) On rafts of bamboos, grass, timber, etc., not exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth | Two annas each raft. |

Tolls will be levied at Nali and Shapleza.

13. For boats frequently using the canal such as boats carrying passengers, grass or perishable articles monthly tickets will be issued at 10 times the ordinary toll.

14. Every vessel which has paid toll shall be allowed to remain in the canal for three days inclusive of the days of entry into and leaving the canal. A vessel remaining in any part of the canal longer than three days shall be charged demurrage equal to one-half of the toll for each day in excess of three days. No vessel shall be permitted to remain in the canal for more than one month. Provided that this rule shall not apply to vessels holding monthly tickets under rule 13 above, which may remain in the canal for more than three days without payment of demurrage but not for more than one month at a time.

15. No vessel carrying exclusively police officers or servants, soldiers and officers of the British Army, post mail runners, officers of the Irrigation Department on duty, officers and servants of the toll office for the canal referred to in these rules while on duty, or the vessels of such other persons as may be exempted by a resolution of the District Board of Bakarganj, shall be liable for toll in the canal.

16. Any matter relating to the mode of collection of tolls and other relevant points, not provided for in these rules, shall be decided by the District Board of Bakarganj at a meeting, and shall be subject to the approval of the local Government.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORTS OF THE CIVIL

BENGAL VETERINARY COLLEGE FOR THE YEAR 1928-29.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

CALCUTTA, THE 20TH NOVEMBER 1929.

RESOLUTION—No. 5539 VET.

READ—

Annual Reports of the Civil Veterinary Department, Bengal, and of the Bengal Veterinary College for the year 1928-29.

I. Civil Veterinary Department, Bengal.

Though the scheme for providing an additional Assistant Director was administratively approved in August 1928, it has not yet been found possible to give effect to it for financial reasons, with the result that the proposed redistribution of the several districts of the Presidency into three ranges, each under a separate Assistant Director, is still in abeyance. For the same reason effect has not yet been given to the approved scheme for providing nine Staff Veterinary Assistant Surgeons for controlling outbreaks of epidemic diseases although Government fully realise the difficulty of dealing effectively with such outbreaks in various parts of the province with only one Staff Veterinary Assistant Surgeon, particularly in view of the shortage of the veterinary staff employed by the local bodies. It is, however, gratifying to note that it has been found possible to give effect to the sanctioned scheme for the appointment of a propaganda officer of the rank of Inspector. His principal duty will be to carry on propaganda work with the help of a magic lantern, and to disseminate information regarding veterinary diseases, their prevention and treatment, etc. It is hoped that the officer will justify his appointment by bringing home to the minds of cultivators their responsibility in regard to the health of the cattle under their charge.

2. As regards the scheme for the appointment of a Research Officer submitted by the Veterinary Adviser, Government, while appreciating its merits, are of opinion that it must await conditions under which it can be discussed with some prospects of a successful issue. Moreover Government also consider it important that the scheme should be examined by the Provincial Committee on Agricultural Research which is now in process of formation in pursuance of the recommendation of the Royal Commission on Agriculture.

3. While Government have been doing all that is practicable in the matter of providing the supervising and other staff of the department which are exclusively maintained from public funds, it is regrettable to find that some local bodies have so far not yet shouldered their own share of the burden, the result being that the programme of providing two Veterinary Assistant Surgeons for each subdivision is far from being carried out.

4. The most noticeable event which has taken place since the close of the year is that Government have issued orders regarding the free supply of serum to local bodies with retrospective effect from 1st April 1927. This has relieved these bodies of a charge of Rs. 70,000 per annum, and it is hoped that they will now bear their legitimate share of the veterinary expenditure more readily than hitherto.

5. It is pleasing to note that the year under review has been generally a healthy one for the live-stock of the province. Rinderpest continues to be the most serious scourge, being responsible for 67 per cent. of the deaths reported from bovine diseases. A very important feature of the campaign of the year was a free demonstration of the serum simultaneous method of inoculation against rinderpest organised at char Patharghata in the district of Bakarganj. It is hoped that the demonstration will prove of real value. It may be expected that the gradual extension of the serum simultaneous method of inoculation will tend towards the reduction of the death rate on account of rinderpest. In this connection Government note with satisfaction that the death rate among inoculated animals was negligible during the year.

6. The record of the working of the veterinary hospitals and dispensaries is not very satisfactory, the number of such institutions having been reduced from 45 to 44. The most striking feature appears to be the abrupt fall from 21,290 to 9,353 in the number of cases not brought to hospital but supplied with medicine. The reasons as stated in the report do not seem to explain adequately this abnormal decrease and the matter requires further investigation. Government join with the Director in thanking the Rani Brindarani Chaudhurani, of Dimla, for her generous contribution towards the construction of the veterinary dispensary at that station and note with pleasure that the Maharaja of Susang in Mymensingh also contemplates opening a veterinary dispensary on his own estate in collaboration with the district board. It is hoped that other landlords of the province will emulate these efforts.

7. It is satisfactory to notice that cattle fairs and shows continued to be attended by departmental officers who took these opportunities of delivering lectures on veterinary matters and of explaining to the people the modern methods of treatment of diseases and of management of cattle. This is essentially necessary for the development of veterinary knowledge among cultivators who are proverbially conservative.

8. Government note with pleasure the names of officers of the department who did good work during the year and desire also to acknowledge the services of Messrs. Kerr and Davis for their efficient administration of the department.

II. The Bengal Veterinary College.

9. Government are gratified to note that the demand for admission into the college shows an increase. With the opening of a Veterinary College at Patna students will, of course, cease to come from Bihar and Orissa, but in view of the increase in the number of students from Bengal seeking admission into the college, it does not seem probable that the position will be affected very seriously. At the same time, Government would again take this opportunity of urging that local bodies be prepared to bear their legitimate share of veterinary expenditure specially as they are now being supplied with serum free of charge.

It is most disappointing to note that the district board stipends in Bengal compare very unfavourably with those of other provinces. The attention of the boards is drawn to the matter.

10. Government note with satisfaction that the Raymond Research Laboratory has maintained its record of continued good work during the year under review.

11. The recommendations of the Royal Commission on Agriculture relating to the Veterinary Department are being considered by Government. Such of the accepted recommendations as may involve additional expenditure must, unhappily, await better financial conditions, while effect will be given to others as early as may be practicable.

12. Government desire to acknowledge the care and attention which Messrs. MacGregor and Davis devoted to the administration of the college and would also record their appreciation of the manner in which the committee of management have conducted their work.

By order of the Government of Bengal.

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.
